Ex-Mayor Calls Sheboygan Police Chief Heimke Perjurer

Ploetz Denies He Talked With Sheriff Regarding Obligation to Union

Washington — Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.) said today the senate rackets committee's investigation of the long strike against the Kohler Co. has degenerated into a farce. McNamara told the senate that its special rackets investigating committee, on which he serves, "should have quit while it was ahead."

Before starting the Kohler inquiry, he said, the committee "had its comfortable niche in history well secured," but that now its name and prestige "are on the verge of complete destruction—if, indeed, the damage has not already been done."

Wagner testified that Ploetz, upon learning that Wagner had sent 10 policemen to the dock and was holding 12 or 15 in reserve at the station, told him "two is enough. I'm going down (to the dock) and handle it myself."

Wagner said Ploetz ordered the reserve force home, but that 10 policemen were kept at the dock.

Ploetz, mayor of Sheboygan from 1955 into 1957, followed him to the witness chair and said Wagner's testimony "was not correct."

"I am willing to take a lie detector test," Ploetz said.

Ploetz said he assumed Wagner would provide enough help to take care of potential trouble at the dock.

Ploetz said two similar clay boats docked and unloaded without incident in 1954 and he was not too concerned about trouble on July 5, 1955.

"You knew it was the intention of the union not to permit unloading, didn't you?" McClellan asked.

"I did not know," Ploetz replied.

"I didn't think you were that dumb," McClellan said as he banged the gavel to end the morning session.

The call for four new witnesses ran counter to reported backstage efforts to agree on a plan to shorten the committee's hearings. Any such agreement might bring to the witness chair late this week two principal figures — President Herbert V. Kohler of the company and President Walter Reuther of the UAW.

Reads From Report

McClellan read from a report by private detectives employed by the Kohler Co., which suggested that the four men had been sent to the dynamite cache to "trip the trap" police had arranged. The detectives' report said it was "almost ridiculous" to believe that persons in the strikers' soup kitchen didn't know the police were hiding nearby.

Many Havana Stores Close During Crisis

Growing Demands Made in Cuba for Batista Resignation

BY LARRY ALLEN

Havana — Near paralysis hit many stores and businesses in this unusually bustling Cuban capital today in the wake of demands that President Batista quit to end bloodshed.

Batista answered the demands by calling in his top military and police chiefs to intensify plans for crushing any major rebel attempt to overthrow him.

He acted after 42 religious, professional, fraternal and other organizations demanded he get out.

Their move came within hours after rebel leader Fidel Castro declared "total war." Castro predicted Batista would be ousted by a general strike and armed uprising sometime in April.

Streets usually crowded during morning shopping hours were nearly deserted. Merchants complained "there is no business. There is practically nobody on the streets and nobody is buying anything."

International airlines reported some of their planes to and from Havana were nearly empty. The government quit issuing permits for Cubans to go abroad.

Some American business organizations called off conventions planned for Havana. One hotel reported four cancellations.

Cancel Contracts

Two star attractions for luxury hotels canceled their contracts. They were the pianist Liberace and Hollywood singing actress Jane Powell. But the new $24 million, 30-story Havana Hilton hotel went ahead with plans for a gala opening tomorrow night. Nine heavily armed guards were posted to prevent rebel bombing of sabotage attempts. Rebels already have burned rugs in the hotel's gambling casino and hallways.

Cuba apparently was facing its most dramatic hour since Batista seized power from President Carlos Prio Socarras in 1952.

The nation moved toward a crisis that may only be resolved by widespread bloodshed.

President Batista was determined to keep power until his candidate, former Premier Andres Rivero Agüero, is elected president on June 1.

Throughout the island rebels stepped up bombing, burnings, wrecking of communications and killings of Batista supporters.

U. S. Acts to Speed Program to Send Up Added Space Craft

Vanguard Satellite Orbits Much Higher Than Anticipated

Cape Canaveral, Fla. — Two — actually three — made in the U.S. moons whizzed around the earth today in company with the sole surviving but already doomed Soviet sputnik satellite.

And the United States continued to press on with programs to launch additional space craft.

With Sputnik II given less than a month of remaining life, Russia for the first time since Sputnik I came into being Oct. 4 was at a numerical disadvantage in the international space flight competition.

The navy Vanguard satellite was launched early yesterday into an orbit that pushed new frontiers out into the unknown.

2,500-Mile Peak

The announced orbit ranged from 400 miles above the earth to a peak of 2,500 miles, the highest yet attained by a man-made satellite.

The Vanguard orbiter represented not one but two satellites. Its true artificial moon was a shiny aluminum sphere only 6.4 inches in diameter and weighing 34 pounds.

Somewhere close behind it in an 18,000-mile an hour orbit hundreds of miles out from the earth was the 50-pound, 5-foot long, 20 inches wide third stage rocket that pushed Vanguard to orbital speed.

The navy estimated that the sphere would stay in orbit 5 to 10 years. The dead rocket in its wake will have a much shorter ride.

Some officials of Martin Co., which built the Vanguard test rockets, suggested that the orbit peak may be considerably

250 Americans Ordered to Leave Medan

See-Saw Battle Continues for North Sumatran Capital

Singapore — Rebel Padang radio announced that the town of Medan, site of the U. S. owned Caltex oil installations in Central Sumatra, was recaptured by rebel forces today.

Jakarta, Indonesia — U. S. firms and missions ordered 250 Americans out of Medan today as prospects loomed for more fighting in the see-saw battle for the North Sumatran capital.

Confirming that the key port and rail center which fell to the rebels Sunday had been retaken by Jakarta government troops, U. S. Vice Consul Richard Clearly indicated another rebel attack was expected.

Clearly said the 250 Americans — including women and children — would leave for Singapore Thursday aboard the liner Oranje. The liner also will take out 825 Dutch nationals.

Two Fined for Topsy Driving

Gerald Tierney Also Charged With Stealing Two Cars

Two drivers, one of whom admitted stealing two cars, were charged in municipal court today with drunken driving.

Gerald E. Tierney, 20, route 1, Appleton, was fined $100.

Dr. Marshall E. Stowers, Oshkosh, forfeited a $125 bond. He was arrested Sunday night after police followed him for several blocks on E. College avenue. He registered .27 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication.

Tierney was arrested Saturday morning for drunken driving and later admitted to Appleton police he had stolen two cars. He faced six charges in court this morning, one of which was dropped because the offense took place in Calumet county.

De Valera Favors U. S. Mediation in Effort For Irish Unification

London — Ireland's Premier Eamon de Valera today told a news conference he would like to see the U. S. government offer its good offices to end the partition of his country.

The 75-year-old New York born leader roundly denounced violence as a means to unification.

"There is no principle of right or justice on which partition of our country can be based," he said at the conference in the closely guarded Irish embassy.

"We do not think force can be successful. We do not want the united Ireland brought about by violence."

Destroys Camera

Tierney was charged with stealing a car belonging to Mrs. Lyle Gerhart, 714 N. Durkee street, Wednesday. He also was charged with destroying an $85 camera in the car of Alvin T. Gilbertson, 2000 S. Oneida street, which he also stole Wednesday night. The charge of stealing Gilbertson's car was dropped for jurisdictional reasons.

Sentences were deferred for two weeks on the two charges for a pre-sentence investigation.

Tierney was fined $5 for driving a car which had not been registered and $5 for driving a car without a driver's license. The latter charges stem from his arrest for drunken driving when he was driving a car belonging to his brother and himself.

Police arrested him after he ignored a traffic signal and drove to a parking lot in the 200 block of W. Washington street. Tierney is in the navy and home on leave.

Homes Hit by Shells Believed From Plane

Sheboygan Falls Area Residents Told to be Alert for Others

Sheboygan Falls — Explosive cannon shells whipped out of the sky last night, pelting streets and hammering into at least three houses.

No one was injured, but residents of the area were warned to be on the lookout for any other shells which might be unexploded.

The blue-tipped projectiles were identified as shells from 20-millimeter cannon mounted on American military aircraft.

In Washington, the air force ordered an inspection team to Sheboygan Falls to make a check.

Brig. Gen. Donald W. Saunders from Westover Air Force base, Mass., headed an inspection team expected to arrive in Sheboygan Falls before noon today.

The air force said results of the investigation will be made public as soon as it is completed.

Three Homes Hit

The air force said a Lockbourne Air Force base B47 has been identified as having been in that area about the time of the accident. The air force has an over-water practice firing range about 25 miles southeast of Sheboygan Falls over Lake Michigan.

Capt. Robert Dietz, air force information officer at Chicago's O'Hare field, said he was informed the shells came from a B-47 based at Lockbourne Air Force base near Columbus, Ohio.

At Lockbourne AFB, Lt. Billy Baxter, an information officer, said the only Lockbourne plane over Wisconsin last night was a RB47 which did not have ammunition in its tail cannon, the only armament it carries.

The RB47 is a camera-equipped version of the B-47.

Lt. Baxter said the 26th Strategic Reconnaissance wing had one RB47 flying in "that general direction," but he said it was not scheduled to arrive in this area until after the cannon fire occurred.

The shells struck shortly after

Alarmists Will Not 'Panic' Ike

President Says He Will Do Everything Needed for Economy

Washington — President Eisenhower declared today his administration will undertake any measure, including tax reduction if necessary, "that will assist healthy economic recovery."

But he said it isn't going to be "panicked by alarmists" into activities which could make the present recession hardships of business and individuals chronic instead of temporary.

The president's remarks were made at a conference of some 1,800 Republican women.

In them, he hinted at a veto of a bill the senate passed last week to freeze price supports on farm commodities.

Highest Standard Needed

He said that "freezing rigidity of the price-depressing practices of the past represents in my opinion a 180-degree turn in the wrong direction—the direction that can only lead to chronic control and perpetual troubles for the farmer."

Eisenhower's address touched also on a variety of other subjects.

On the point of conduct in government, Eisenhower mentioned no names but said that the standard of official conduct "must be the highest standard known to human behavior."

Charges Fizzle

Appleton Fifteenth ward Supv. Alois C. Fischer, who a week ago demanded a full investigation of the Outagamie county highway department, Monday saw his charges evaporate under a relatively small investigation.

Fischer Monday morning gave the board's executive committee his charges and in the afternoon the committee discovered that a simple misunderstanding led to Fischer's charges.

Fischer arrived at a single charge after three hours with the committee — he said that it.

Highway Commissioner Clarence Brownson told Joseph Coffey, county highway garage superintendent, not to buy from Schreiter Auto Supply company. Fischer charged that Brownson took the action after a letter, claiming that private contractors could build highways cheaper than county workmen, was sent over the signature of Lawrence Heegeman, a Schreiter employee and member of Fischer's County for Tomorrow organization.

Brownson Monday faced Fischer and said he issued no such order.

GOP Leaders, Ike Discuss Tax Reduction

Conference Reaches No Decision
But Talk Quickens as Democrats
Propose $40 Lump Sum Rebate

Washington — Sen. Martin (R-Pa.) reported today that a White House conference cancelled without a decision on the possibility of cutting taxes.

The talk ranged over withholding taxes on individuals, excises, and levies in which a cut might spur venture capital into business.

Martin was the first to emerge from the regular Tuesday meeting President Eisenhower holds with GOP congressional leaders—a session which Martin said concentrated for half an hour or more on the tax question.

The conference, as on last Tuesday, was expanded to take in members of key congressional committees as well as Secretary of the Treasury Anderson.

Prolonged Slump
It came as Democrats on Capitol Hill considered the possibility of meeting a prolonged business slump with a $40 lump sum rebate in taxes withheld from paychecks. They figure this would put some $2 billion into circulation.

As outlined by a responsible official who did not want to be quoted by name, the proposal would involve a $40 rebate on tax withholdings in the pay periods immediately following passage of any such bill. This amount of tax liability would be wiped out.

If $40 or more were withheld in a pay period, the individual would get that amount in a lump sum. If less than $40 were withheld, the worker would receive the rebate as fast as it could be made.

The official who disclosed this plan said it was aimed primarily at putting into the hands of those who file 48 million tax returns enough money in one sum to encourage immediate expenditures.

Tax Reduction
"If the people got $40 in a lump sum they would be more apt to buy a chair or something of that sort than if they got the tax reduction back over a year's period at the rate of less than $1 a week," he said.

Both the congressional Democrats and the Eisenhower administration have postponed any final decision on tax reductions until there are clearer indications of the direction in which the economy is headed.

Eisenhower also arranged to discuss problems of the recession in a luncheon address to 1,700 Republican women gathered here for a conference.

Sen. Knowland of California, the senate GOP leader, said he expects no final decision now on the timing of a possible tax cut and does not believe any administration bill has taken shape.

Chairman Bridges (NH) of the senate Republican policy committee said in a separate interview that any tax change should "provide for tax reductions primarily on the basis of stimulating business."

Excise Levies
In addition to their proposed "quickie" cut in individual tax withholdings, Democrats are thinking in terms of reduced corporation and excise levies, plus a possible acceleration in depreciation allowances to encourage declining capital investments.

Disclosure of the Democratic plan followed a federal reserve board announcement yesterday that during February "industrial production, employment, incomes and retail sales again declined."

Industrial production fell to its lowest point since December 1954 and was 11 per cent below the level in February 1957. The report noted also that auto production was cut further in early March and that steel production remained near the February level. Gains had been hoped for in March.

San Angelo, Texas — A fire raced through a small frame house yesterday and burned five children to death.

Victims were Patricia Ann, 5; Willie Jr., 4; Manuel, 3; David, 2; and Ellison, about 1. Cause of the fire was not determined immediately. All were Negroes.

Max Leibman, TV Producer, Leaves NBC

New York — NBC and Producer Max Liebman have parted.

Liebman, with the network since 1948, said last night he had resigned because "I had no assignment."

His 5-year contract with NBC had 21 months to run.

Liebman said a settlement was made for an undisclosed sum.

A spokesman for the network said the contract was dissolved at the producer's request.

Responsible for many of NBC's special TV programs, Liebman had also paired comedians Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca for the "Show of Shows."

The program had a long run on NBC. The comedians now appear together in an ABC-TV show.

Liebman said he will return to the legitimate theater, from which he has been absent since 1948. He expects to have a musical adaptation of "The Shop Around the Corner," a comedy by Miklos Laszlo, ready by early next year. Contracts have not been signed yet.

In conjunction with his future stage ventures, Liebman said, he will operate a packaging firm for TV on a free-lance basis.

The sheriff said the youth apparently was unable to give a reason for his actions.

The youth was arrested late Monday afternoon on a street in Whitewater. Police said he was carrying a .22 caliber revolver but did not try to use it.

Reinel said the youth attended Palmyra high school and lived on the Edgar Harris farm, two miles north of Palmyra.

Texas Woman Secedes From U.S., Asks UN Recognition

Waller, Texas — Embattled Mrs. Irene Clett, 59, fought a court ruling taking away 350 acres by seceding from the union yesterday. She asked U. N. recognition as a separate nation.

A sister, Mrs. Lucy Mayberry, said Mrs. Scott also wrote Gov. Price Daniel asking intervention.

Federal courts have ruled 350 acres in this southeast Texas community belong to the heirs of George Scott. Mrs. Clett has said Scott was a friend and not a partner and has denied claims to the land.

She pitched a tent, moved in household goods and armed herself with a shotgun.

But it was her sister, Mrs. Mayberry, who held the fort yesterday when Deputy U. S. Marshal Ellis Binford tried to present Mrs. Clett with a copy of a request for an injunction ordering the woman not to trespass.

"You can't come onto this property," shouted Mrs. Mayberry, who stood guard with a shovel.

"I just have my job to do," explained Binford.

But when he started to cross the fence, about 15 bystanders advised him against it and he went back to his car.

Examiner Rules Against Rate Increase Plan

Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Company Must Make Refunds

Washington — A power commission examiner ruled Monday against Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line company rate increase because its utility customers had not agreed to the boost.

Examiner William J. Costello dismissed the $4,074,500 annual wholesale natural gas rate increase. He also ordered refunds to 16 wholesale natural gas customers in Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Missouri.

The pipeline firm had collected increased rates from Nov. 15, 1956, until Sept. 15, 1957, when a further boost was made effective in another proceeding.

No Change Here
(Residential and commercial users of natural gas in Appleton, Neenah and Menasha will not be affected by the ruling. Although the Wisconsin Michigan Power company has been paying the increased wholesale rates to Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line company, the rate increase was not passed on to its customers.)

The examiner conceded that the increase "had been shown to be justified."

However he held that the rate increase proposal must be disallowed unless a negotiated agreement with the customer companies is filed. He said no such agreement was filed.

Costello based his action on the ruling of the United States court of appeals here last November in the "Memphis case."

The court held that an interstate pipeline company could not make unilateral rate changes subject to commission approval unless the company had the consent of its customers.

Costello's decision is subject to review by the commission, which has said it isn't convinced it should follow the Memphis decision "until the final word has been spoken by the U. S. Supreme court."

Another Case
A recent commission statement in another case indicated it would review Costello's ruling even if none of the interested parties file exceptions to his decision.

The commission said in January that it was not convinced that the reasoning of the appeals court in the "Memphis case" represents the intention of congress as expressed in the Natural Gas Act.

Since then the supreme court has agreed to review the ruling of the appeals court.

Most Idle Workers in Wisconsin are Manual Laborers, WSES Claims

Report Based on Survey of 71,200 Persons Who Sought Work March 1

Milwaukee — Most Wisconsin unemployed persons who sought jobs on March 1 were those who do manual labor, the Wisconsin State Employment service said today.

The WSES issued a report of a survey covering 71,200 persons who sought work on March 1. This represents about 77 per cent of the total estimated number of 92,600 persons unemployed at that time, the service said.

The others primarily were new and reentrants to the labor force or were not covered by the state's unemployment compensation program.

Women Workers
Women made up 18,111 of the 71,200 workers covered by the survey. The report was issued at a conference of 26 WSES districts.

Skilled Workers
The survey showed 24,954 unskilled workers—including 6,736 women—were out of work March 1. Another 15,950 semi-skilled workers were unemployed.

More than 1,500 unemployed were reported at each of the district offices at Appleton, Eau Claire, Green Bay, Janesville, La Crosse, Madison, Milwaukee, Racine, Superior, Waukegan and Wausau. Milwaukee had the highest number seeking jobs on March 1—15,022. Madison had the second highest number with 3,858.

The unemployment breakdown, according to the workers covered by the survey, were: Professional, semi-professional, managerial and officials 1,634; clerical and sales 6,386; service, including domestics 4,058; skilled labor 13,184; semi-skilled labor 15,950; unskilled labor 24,954; agricultural, fishery and forestry 728; inexperienced workers, 4,379.

God's Kingdom Attainable, Pastor States

Nothing Should Stop One's Entrance,
Rev. Pierson Says

The kingdom of God is attainable and "anything which might prevent our entrance, no matter how good it may be in itself, should be ruthlessly sacrificed," the Rev. Clifford Pierson, pastor of Memorial Presbyterian church, contended in his Sunday morning sermon.

"Jesus is telling us that such a kingdom exists, that entrance into it is possible for every individual and that possession of it is so valuable that a man ought to consider it a gift at any price," he stated.

Because the kingdom is of such exceeding worth, anything that keeps a man out of it is indescribably serious, the minister went on. In Jesus mind, sin is so serious and so dangerous that to get rid of it, one would be justified in losing something as good as a hand, foot or eye—even physical life itself, the Rev. Mr. Pierson declared.

"Sins is to be interpreted not in terms of its shallow and ephemeral pleasures but in terms of its affront to God, its corruption of the sinner himself and its damage to those sinned against. . . . The life of the sinner is never as free and happy as the modern imagination pictures it," he asserted.

If man is to be free to live

Appleton Post-Crescent 3
Tuesday, March 18, 1958

the joyous, abundant and useful life, he must get rid of diseased thoughts, ideas, attitudes and habits or whatever threatens his character, he maintained. Whatever hinders entrance into the kingdom is a fatal liability, the pastor said.

"Greater character, great living, great faith do not come from following the broad, easy path of least resistance," he stated. "A man must be prepared not only to give up the obviously evil but he must also be willing to sacrifice the lesser good for the sake of the larger good."

"Men who find the kingdom invariably tell us that it is the pearl of great price and urge us to take possession at whatever cost—be it hands, feet, eyes or life itself," he concluded.

Many Towns Seek Powers Of Village

Action Possible
Under Law Passed
By '57 Legislature

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The Wisconsin Towns association currently reports it has been "swamped with requests" from town boards for advice on procedure under new state legislation permitting towns to assume the powers of villages.

The 1957 legislature changed the laws to permit towns to take such powers, by resolution adopted at the annual meetings of the town electors.

The new act was adopted at the request of the association. Earlier only those towns which included in their territory an incorporated place had the right to assume the functions and powers of a village.

Powers Limited

As explained by a spokesman for town governments here, Wisconsin laws traditionally have limited towns as governmental units to such functions and powers as expressed specifically by legislative act.

Villages, by contrast, as municipal corporations have broader operating rights under the home rule provisions of the state constitution.

As more towns have become urbanized and as even the remaining rural towns have found demands for more services made upon them by the public, the towns have felt the shackles of their limited powers under the laws.

The simple expedient of acting to assume village powers broadens their functional jurisdictions considerably, and there is now a pronounced trend in that direction.

Non-Leftists Win Election In Ryukyu Chain

However Vote Not Considered as S. Endorsement

BY KAY TATEISHI

Naha, Okinawa — Moderate candidates who expressed willingness to work with the U. S. military administration recorded an impressive victory today over the far left in the election of a new legislature for the Ryukyu islands.

The outcome of the voting Sunday was considered much more of a vote against the anti-American minren red front than any endorsement of American policies, however. The three moderate parties all pledged to work for the return to Japan of the island chain 350 miles from Red China, which includes the big U. S. base of Okinawa.

Minren polled the biggest popular vote of any single party and increased its membership in the legislature, although its gain fell short of the leftists' hopes. An election commission spokesman warned that the extremists were still a potent political factor and "optimism that Okinawa is pro-American is still unwarranted."

Official, nearly completed returns for the one-house, 24-member assembly gave 29 seats to the moderates and five to minren.

"I am very pleased," said Lt. Gen. James E. Moore, high commissioner of the island chain.

"This is our answer," jubilantly echoed Tsumichiyo Asato, chairman of the front-running moderate socialists. "The voters are well aware of minren's ulterior motive of spreading communist influence."

There was no comment from minren's pro-communist leaders, Mayor Saichi Kaneshi of Naha, or his predecessor, Kamejiro Senaga. The Japanese socialist party, which backed minren, blamed the setback on "oppression by international influences," apparently meaning the United States.

3 Dwellings Hit by Shells

er 7 p. m. in this area, which is about 55 miles north of Milwaukee.

Projectiles pierced the roofs of the John Novotny house here, the home of Lloyd Theune at nearby Oostburg and the residence of Francis Deely, route 2, Sheboygan Falls.

Police Chief Henry Dillmann of Sheboygan Falls said one shell exploded about 20 yards ahead of his car on Highway 23 while he was driving between Sheboygan and Plymouth.

Patrolman Thomas Winter said other shells exploded in the street here.

Unexploded shells were recovered from the three homes.

Mrs. Novotny said a bullet struck a chest of drawers in the second-floor bedroom where her three little daughters were asleep. The chest stood on the spot where the bed had been located last week before Mrs. Novotny moved the furniture.

Winter recovered the shell from the Novotny bedroom. He described it as blue-tipped, about "three-quarters of an inch in diameter," with rifling marks near the tail end.

The shells which ripped the roof at the Theune home caused clothing to catch fire on the second floor, but the fire was extinguished quickly.

Tricky Ape Again Escapes, This Time in Memphis

Memphis, Tenn. — Tricky Nicky, the Barbary ape, arrived from Norfolk Monday and the welcoming committee soon included the police commissioner, 12 cops, a squad of firemen and a couple of aerial trucks.

For Tricky Nicky had escaped again the instant an unwary railroad express employee opened his cage. Traffic had to be blocked off in the downtown area before he was caught.

Destined for the Memphis zoo, Nicky was collared by a policeman as he was walking up the side of a hotel. The officer put the arm on him by reaching through a third floor window.

Nicky was given the zoo by the British admiral in command of Gibraltar.

The U. S. Navy brought him as far as Norfolk, where he tried to jump ship. He spent the night perched on the ship's mast before falling for a trap baited with bananas.

until telemetry data and other information received from the sphere had been analyzed.

But Rosen said he was more interested in the fact that the Vanguard orbit's low point is 400 miles.

"That's far better than we longed and six inches in diameter. It weighs 30.8 pounds, of which only about 12 pounds make up the instrumented satellite part.

"The fact that our low point is twice that high means we were much more successful than we had hoped, and that the satellite will have a much longer life than could have been expected," Rosen added.

The army launched its Explorer I satellite Jan. 31. The cylinder is almost seven feet long and six inches in diameter. It weighs 30.8 pounds, of which only about 12 pounds make up the instrumented satellite part.

Army Secretary Brucker announced earlier that there may be another attempt to launch an army satellite within a week.

N. Elliott Felt, operations manager for Martin Co. on Project Vanguard, said there would be one more test vehicle firing in the current series.

Other Launchings Ahead In Washington, Dr. John P. Hagen, director of Project Vanguard for NRL, said the navy would launch six Vanguard rockets with 21-inch, 204 pound spheres and one with a 13-inch plastic lobe.

Sputnik II, possibly 35 feet long and 5 feet in diameter, is expected to cease orbiting about April 17. The 1,120-pound sputnik has a dead dog aboard.

The newest U. S. satellite broadcasts at low power on two radio frequencies, 108 and 108.03 megacycles. One uses chemical batteries and the other small solar batteries.

At Cambridge, Mass., the Smithsonian Astrophysical observatory alerted 127 U. S. moonwatch teams to try to observe the new Vanguard satellite visually.

Many of the teams will be in action any way because Sputnik II is to make a series of visible morning and night passages over the United States this week.

The moonwatch teams might be able to see the Vanguard third stage rocket, but almost certainly would not see the tiny sphere.

The Vanguard orbits around the earth on the average of every 135 minutes compared with 115 minutes for the Explorer.

Name Attorney to Defend State in Suit by Wright

Madison — Francis Wilcox, an Eau Claire attorney, Monday was named by Gov. Thomson to defend the state in a suit brought by the Frank Lloyd Wright foundation.

The foundation is challenging the constitutionality of a law passed by the 1957 Legislature which limits the height of all buildings constructed on the shores of Lake Monona to 20 feet.

Wright designed a civic center and auditorium for the city of Madison that exceeded the height limit.

The foundation, which handles Wright's affairs, brought suit to force Madison to go through with its contract for the building. The city and the state were named defendants in the suit.

Dear Mr. Arthur:

For the past several months, the Culligan Soft Water dealers in Appleton, Kaukauna and Neenah-Menasha have been using the Appleton Post-Crescent to put across a "Thought-Provoking Idea" about our product. In the past we have used almost all available types of advertising, singly and together, but never did we get the results produced for us by the Post-Crescent!

Business was good, but after our Post-Crescent advertising got underway -- "Business, she was wonderbar!" People have gone out of their way to comment on our Post-Crescent advertising copy. Equally important, we have been selling Culligan Water Softeners and obtaining many new Culligan Soft Water Service users.

A good product is of course, essential to continued growth, but a great deal of credit and praise must go to your terrific newspaper and to Bob Kruckeberg, our "Business Builder", without whose helpful interest and enthusiasm to do a good job for us; we could not say "business is good" - Thank you, Bob!

We think you can see, Mr. Arthur, that we are happy, satisfied Post-Crescent advertisers, because you have done a job for us. Culligan in Appleton, Kaukauna and Neenah-Menasha says THANK YOU!

Liberal Leader Fights for Party's Return to Power

BY HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa —(P)— Lester B. "Mike" Pearson appears to be coming off the ropes in his struggle for Canada's political championship.

Pearson

Less apologetic and more forthright in his speeches than at the start, he appears now to be winning better crowd reaction as he carries his peace-and-prosperity message across the country.

His audiences have become larger and more attentive. Among his handlers, the spirit has definitely brightened.

"Well, what would you expect?" he replied when asked to comment on indications that he appeared a bit groggy and slow in the campaign opening. "It was like putting a man into a championship fight with only two weeks training. That's all the time I had between the time I became liberal leader and the date the election was called.

"And you couldn't even call it training. I had to spend that time in the house of commons. I had no time to reorganize the party. I had to go in almost raw. It's getting easier for me now. I feel a lot more confident of the future than when I started."

Hopeful For Party

With half the campaign over, the shy, rather quiet-spoken former diplomat—given more to reflective conversation than dazzling oratory—now talks less of the mistakes of the liberal party's past and more of the bright new future he sees ahead. He has given his team a clearer shape and personality.

"The new party, the party of reform, the party of the left."

Though he drives himself hard, Pearson, 60, appears in good physical shape. At the end of the first three weeks of campaigning, after he had covered parts of Ontario and toured the four western provinces, Pearson told liberal supporters in Quebec to take heart. He said he had found a "great spirit of life, hope, energy, enthusiasm and optimism in our party."

But the party needs more than spirit to win an election, he added; it needs to work. He carried the same message to every province: Return the liberals to power to restore prosperity. Everywhere he argued the advantages of his proposed $400 million in tax cuts over Prime Minister Diefenbaker's billion-dollar works program as an answer to Canada's economic doldrums.

Hits Winter Election

He criticized the conservatives for calling a winter election when parliament should be meeting to deal with unemployment. He hammered at Diefenbaker's proposed 15 per cent switch in Canada's imports from the United States to Britain, arguing this kind of

Propose Bill To Put Price Labels on Cars

Washington —(P)— Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) Monday proposed an automobile price labeling bill he described as designed to "do away with the advanproposal makes food for tariff protectionists at Washington.

He emphasized the need for peace and asked voters to compare his own qualifications to find peace with those of the conservatives. The conservatives reacted by claiming that Pearson, 1957 Nobel peace prize winner, had not been the first to suggest a United Nations force for the Middle East, that this proposal first was made by Diefenbaker in January, 1956. Pearson replied that no country had a monopoly on such a proposal.

He added that if he became prime minister, he would press ahead for a permanent U. N. police force and for development of free trade among the Atlantic powers. He promised also to send a ministerial trade mission to communist China and to review the question of granting that country diplomatic recognition.

tage now held by a few unscrupulous dealers."

He said in a statement that the measure he was introducing would require new cars to have labels showing, among other things, the retail price suggested to dealers by manufacturers.

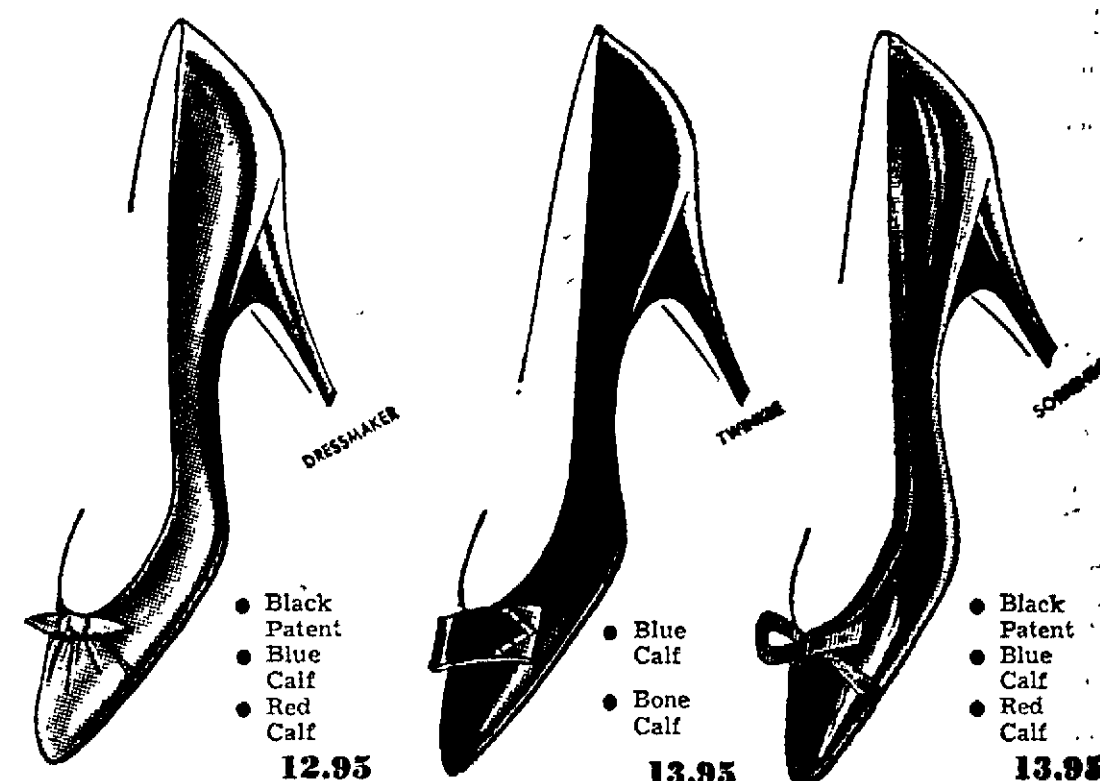

At present, Monroney said, "the dealer who is honest about the so-called 'list price' cannot compete with the one who 'picks' several hundred dollars extra into it so he can pretend to give you more on your trade-in."

Monroney, chairman of a senate subcommittee on automobile marketing practices, said his bill would not prevent dealers and buyers from bargaining over prices of both new cars and trade-in allowances.

But he said it would "arm the presently bewildered car buyer with some necessary facts" and predicted it would result in "immediate improvement of the car market by helping to restore public confidence in car selling practices."

Besides the price, the label he proposed would carry the name, make, model, serial number, freight charge, final assembly point, method by which the car had been shipped, and the dealer to whom it was shipped.

Distorting Tax Facts

In Sen. William Proxmire's February newsletter from Washington appears the following paragraph:

"Most taxpayers are still paying the heavy war taxes passed in the Korean emergency. In 1954, Congress cut taxes, but almost entirely for big corporations and the one family in 10 with the highest income. Nine out of 10 taxpayers got no cut at all."

This is an outright misstatement of the facts. In 1954 Congress took the following action on income taxes:

(1) It permitted the excess profits tax on corporations to expire, as scheduled.

(2) It permitted individual income tax rates to be reduced across the board, as scheduled.

(3) It extended the corporation income tax rates which were set during the Korean emergency, and which had been scheduled to drop. (These rates are still in effect.)

(4) It extended excise taxes on liquor, tobacco, automobiles and a number of other items which had been scheduled to be reduced.

(5) It reduced a number of other excise taxes such as those on telephone and telegraph messages, train and bus fares, toilet goods, sporting goods, appliances, and the like.

(6) It enacted a general revision of the Internal Revenue Code, with some revenue effect.

As a result of these actions the government's revenue from income taxes was cut by $4.8 billions: of this amount, corporations were saved $1 billion and individuals $3.8 billions. The reductions in individual taxes were made across the board: every taxpayer shared in the benefits. In addition the cuts in excise taxes meant savings to everyone who uses a telephone, rides a train or bus, buys toilet goods or sporting equipment or the other items affected.

It may be that Sen. Proxmire thought he could make this statement because Congress in 1954 technically did not reduce taxes, but allowed reductions which had been scheduled several years earlier. But this is weaseling and the senator knows it; each Congress has full authority to act independently of what previous Congresses may have ordered.

We suggest that Sen. Proxmire and his fellow Democrats have plenty of legitimate issues to talk about in this election year without stooping to misrepresentations of fact. If not, then they have little on which to base their election appeals.

The Arabs Are Still Split

The prognosticators who warned that the Arabs could not find unity must be cheering. "I told you so." But the most recent evidence of disunion — Nasser's charge that King Saud of Saudi Arabia tried to have him assassinated — must be regarded as simply another bid for power and popularity on the part of Egypt's ruler.

Not that King Saud wouldn't stoop to such tricks. But the alleged plot entails his paying a large sum of money to a high-ranking Syrian officer whose pro-Nasser sympathies are widely known. A man of such wealth and power as King Saud would certainly go about the business in a more effective manner.

However, the plausibility of the plot is purely academic. Nasser's appeal is to the peasant, the Feyden, the have-nots; and they are not likely to dig deeply into the logic of the charges when they most definitely want to believe that their hero has been threatened. Egypt, with ties now both to Syria and its Russian aid, and Yemen with a spear in Saudi Arabia's side, has simply opened wide the propaganda campaign that has been going on slightly under cover for months.

The United States, in these hassles, has played a somewhat schizophrenic part. On the one hand we oppose the colonial exploitation of the Arab peoples; on the other we wine and dine and subsidize a feudal king who has no comprehension of raised standards of living for the common people of Saudi Arabia. Understandably the administration was annoyed and disillusioned with Nasser, the loud advocate of democracy who did little to raise the standards of the Egyptian people. But it should not have pushed us so far into taking sides with a monarch who is living a century too late. Our backing of Jordan and Iraq is wise and intelligent; our efforts to halt Nasser through King Saud show poor judgment.

Nasser, with his rule extended through the creation of the United Arab Republic, obviously is aiming at continued stirring up of dissatisfaction in all Moslem countries, including Algeria, Tunisia and the Sudan. President Bourguiba of Tunis is strong enough to hold his own against Egypt, but he is torn because of the pressure from France. The best bulwark against Nasser's ambitions is the Arab Federation of Jordan and Iraq.

One thing is increasingly clear. Despite the hopes that the new federations might calm things down, President Nasser by his intemperate attacks upon all who do not see fit to bow at his feet has emphasized that dissent and disunion are his biggest assets. And it may be that some subtle Soviet managed to get that message across — far more dangerous to all Moslems, including Nasser, than any alleged plot of assassination.

Railroad Case History

The Wisconsin public service commission recently issued order Number 2-R-3132, the contents of which offer as clear a clinical example of the ills of the railroad passenger business in our times as we have observed.

For much of their railroad passenger losses railroad corporations have themselves to blame in substantial degree.

But this case and this order were different. In approving, after long deliberation and a record replete with argumentative detail, the abandonment of the last passenger train service by the Milwaukee Road between Milwaukee and Berlin, a distance of about 90 miles, the commission carefully explained that service inadequacies were not involved.

"The equipment used on trains Nos. 30 and 35 is adequate in every respect and is not a criterion contributing to the decline in patronage," the order observed. "The diesel motor car was purchased new in 1949 and is well maintained. The trailing coach is a clean, adequate and modern streamlined, air-conditioned unit. The present schedule or approximate schedule of the trains is geared to accommodate most patrons and from a connecting and operational standpoint cannot be altered."

Yet the record showed that on the basis of evidence some months old, the railroad was losing heavily on these passenger runs. The declining trend was such that current figures would have been even more unfavorable. But for the year ended Aug. 31, 1957, the railroad had out-of-pocket losses on the two trains of nearly $52,000, after taking into account revenues of about $85,000.

"The annual out-of-pocket loss so indicated is so great that it clearly outweighs the public need for service," the commission commented. And who is to quarrel with the conclusion, and especially among those economically literate persons who recognize that the railroad must make up passenger losses out of higher freight charges, to survive?

There is another passage in the commission's order worth more than passing note.

"The labor brotherhoods concerned, namely the firemen and trainmen's organizations, are unwilling to submit to a reduced crew for the operation of the present equipment or for self-propelled equipment used in multiple," it was said.

Is this the direction of economic state-manship by the labor organizations? Or is this an example of collective sticking of heads in the sand that will ultimately bring disaster to them?

Dubinsky, Victor in Strike, Now Confronted by Political Problem

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY
(Copyright, 1958)

Now that David Dubinsky has won his strike as had been planned, he again is master in his own house and can devote himself to the more gentle art of politics. Dubinsky is the dominant personality in New York State's Liberal party which has produced between 300,000 and 400,000 votes in some elections.

The Liberal party is a break-away from the American Labor party which was organized upon instructions of President Franklin D. Roosevelt to catch those voters in New York who would vote for Roosevelt or for Mayor La Guardia but not under the Tammany Hall banner. The American Labor party came under the control of Vito Marcantonio and was suspected by many of being an adjunct of the communist party. Such pro-Roosevelt anti-Tammanyites as A. A. Berle, Jr., David Dubinsky and Alex Rose, head of the Milliner's union, organized the Liberal party which up to now has been an adjunct of the Democratic party, and has been controlled by Dubinsky.

In the forthcoming gubernatorial election, the Liberal party that is Dubinsky, faces a dilemma. According to all the rules of life, Gov. Averell Harriman deserves and ought to get the Liberal party endorsement which should be worth enough to put him over quite comfortably. However, if Nelson Rockefeller decides to run on the Republican ticket for governor, he can have the nomination because that party in this state is without leadership or money, and if Rockefeller can produce nothing else, he can provide money. Therefore many Republicans are for him because even if they cannot win, they will at least be on a gravy train.

For Dubinsky, this is tough. Nelson Rockefeller has been a political protégé of Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, the brilliant public relations counsel, who is very close to both David Dubinsky and Averell Harriman. If Dubinsky switches from Harriman to Rockefeller, will he be an ingrate? And if he rejects Nelson Rockefeller who has been something of a buddy of Dubinsky's, will that also not be ingratitude?

Can the Liberal party, like a bar association endorsing judges, say that both are not bad? And if both are not bad, who are the sheep to vote for?

To muddy the waters, the Liberal party has been suggesting all sorts of candidates for United States senator — Dr. Ralph Bunche, the United Nations Under Secretary and probably the foremost Negro in the United States. Then they talked about Ed Murrow, the broadcaster who visits the homes of celebrities and asks genteel questions. Both Bunche and Murrow have apparently declined the honor. The Democratic candidate is likely to be Mayor Robert Wagner of New York and it is impossible to see how Dubinsky can refuse him the Liberal party endorsement after he helped him win this face-saving strike. But if the Liberal party endorses Wagner for senator can it refuse Harriman its support? Can the Liberal party run Nelson Rockefeller for governor and Mayor Robert Wagner for United States senator?

Must Pull Votes This is too illogical even for Dubinsky who as an old-style Social Democrat pursues opportunism as a way of life. And he has done very well thereby. However, can he pull his votes with him as he does workers in a strike? That, of course, is the question that can only be answered at the polls. A fellow who has a treasury of $200,000,000 can be a very attractive person and Dave Dubinsky has other favorable qualities.

It will be fun to see a campaign in New York in which the contenders are millionaire Harriman versus millionaire Rockefeller, both lovers of the people. Harriman has been more consistently new deal than Nelson Rockefeller who has worked in the Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower administrations.

There are five Rockefeller brothers and of them, Nelson is the politician whose eyes are unquestionably set on the presidency. It is to be noted that every man whom Mrs. Anna Rosenberg has groomed has won a place of distinction. There must be an alumni association of them. Nelson Rockefeller will make a good try in New York and even should he lose to Harriman, it will not be a dead loss, for if he does well at all in 1958, which is expected to be a Democratic year, he undoubtedly might be vice presidential stuff in 1960.

The stakes are big and the players can afford them. But what will Dubinsky do?

C. L. Harrington to Retire as Forestry Head

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — One of the best loved and most important figures in the Wisconsin state government on June 30, will retire.

Cornelius L. Harrington, known throughout the state as "Neil", will give up command of the state forest and parks program which to a considerable degree is a monument to his own dedicated service to the state over a period of nearly half a century.

It is difficult sometimes to appreciate the swift race of time. This man, now 66, is as vigorous and active today as when this reporter first grew to know and respect him, at the prime of his life more than two decades ago.

It was said recently that Harrington has the kind of personality and ability that would probably have brought him a financial fortune—had he chosen to enter the competitive business or professional world rather than public forestry after he left school. Yet riches cannot always be measured in bank entries. Harrington in fact is one of the richest men I know — and ought to be among the most contented.

peals of forest conservation can imagine the satisfaction felt by Harrington and some of his colleagues recently retired when they visit a state forest they created earlier in their lives.

Forestry is concerned not with years, but with generations. The forester must be a dreamer. He is creating not for his own time, but for the remote future. Yet in a span of 50 years man's curative efforts on the forest

CAREER

By any civilized test, he has had a successful, productive, distinguished life.

One of the great stories in Wisconsin during the last brief 40 years has been the emergence of the conservation idea — and its most brilliant manifestation has been in the forestry program.

Far-sighted men early in the century dreamed of repairing the ravages to millions of acres of Wisconsin forest country that had been cut over in earlier times, by men whose ethical concepts were those of their own age and who cannot fairly be judged by the rules conceived by their posterity. Harrington was one of the far-sighted.

It was his fortune to become one of the leaders of these, and a prime force in the conservation program staff during almost all of his professional career. The campaign was not easy. The conservation idea today is accepted almost without thinking by the body politic. Rarely is there even a question raised, for example, over a generous rate of taxation paid by the people for the financing of what is one of the best forestry enterprises by any state. But in the earlier years the effort was primitive, public response was negative or non-existent and the goals seemed dreary ages removed from realization.

Links Farm Problem With Unemployment

Editor, Post-Crescent:

One of the main topics of conversation today is the unemployment situation. What should be done? Sen. Proxmire proposed to relieve the economic hardship by an increase in unemployment compensation. Granted, this will help smooth out a few bumps on the hard road of survival, but will it provide jobs for the unemployed?

Grand speeches are being made in Washington about substantial tax cuts. That's certain to increase the buying power of the men and women who are gainfully employed. But will this buying power be great enough to subsidize over 5,000,000 unemployed men? President Eisenhower has endorsed a bill for a gigantic interstate highway program. Hurray! Jobs at last for men who happen to live in a section of our country where a new highway will be constructed. And when the highway is completed, back to unemployment checks.

estimated 200,000 more homes will be constructed in 1958 if it is passed. This sounds hopeful, but with money as tight as it is now, who is going to buy these houses?

Everyone is scratching at the surface, but, in my opinion, they're evading the real source of trouble. It's common knowledge that when our farm economy is weak, our whole economy is shaky. The next time someone wants to take a poll, why don't they count the number of farmers who have jobs in plants because they aren't grossing enough from their farms? For every farmer working in the city there is a city man who is deprived of a livelihood. This in turn lessens the buying power, which decreases production, which causes more layoffs. I'm sure the farmers would rather earn their livings on their farms, so why doesn't someone see to it that they can?

Congress Control Of Import Quotas Asked by Laird

Washington — Citing examples of Wisconsin industries which are feeling the pinch of foreign competition, Rep. Melvin R. Laird has asked the tax-writing house ways and means committee to report legislation which would provide for congressional disapproval of the tariff commission recommendation on import quotas and duties.

Laird emphasized that the hardwood plywood industry in Wisconsin, as well as milk growers, dairying, woodworking, handicraft trades, woolen goods, fishing flies and knitting "have a serious stake" in the decision the ways and means committee takes on foreign import duties and restrictions.

Laird told the committee of a plan devised by President William C. Hansen, president of Central State college, Stevens Point, which suggested imports of any foreign made goods be in direct proportion to the payment per hour of its wage earners compared with the present dollar an hour as the standard rate paid American labor. Thus, if a foreign country pays 15 cents an hour, that country should be limited to 15 per cent of the American market.

Rezoning of W. Bell, N. Bennett Lots Again On City Council Agenda

Rezoning of two lots at the northwest corner of W. Bell avenue and N. Bennett street will be considered again Wednesday night by the city council.

The proposed rezoning — from 1-family to 2-family district — became snagged in controversy at the last council meeting, March 5, after Ald. William F. Ertl told the council, neighbors are opposed.

Carl Schmitt, owner of half of the property in question, explained he wants to remodel a house for two families.

After much debate and many questions, the council decided to put off a decision until Wednesday night.

New Police Pistol Range Site Picked

The police pistol range ought to be moved to the Appleton Rifle and Pistol Club, Inc., grounds, the public safety committee decided Monday.

Committeemen picked the club's grounds over the present range at Apple Creek and will recommend a lease contract with the club to the council Wednesday night.

Under terms of the lease, the city agrees to pay the club $100 a year for 10 years and to pay, for an estimated $1,400 in constructing an access road and fixing parts of the range.

Owners of the present range at Apple Creek wanted $130 a year for three years.

Money to defray improvement costs will be taken from the street and police department's budgets where there was said to be money available for the work.

City Atty. Don Jury would draft the lease arrangement if the council approves. The new range would be about a mile northwest of the city's northwest corner.

New London Man Held for Stealing Car

Pre-Sentence Check Set After He Admits Taking Auto in City

Donald J. Roberts, 27, route 1, New London, was ordered held in the county jail for a 2-week pre-sentence investigation after he admitted today that he stole a car.

Roberts stole a 1950 car Saturday afternoon from W. Washington and N. Division street after it was parked by Mrs. William Cherkasky, 59 Bellaire court. Roberts told police he had been drinking and took the car when he saw the keys in the ignition.

He was stopped by Dale Constable Bertschy Hawk who noticed Roberts near Dale driving the car with one tire flat and the radiator boiling.

Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiege fined Roberts $25 for driving the stolen car without a driver's license. The car belonged to Appleton Motor company, 1610 W. Wisconsin avenue.

Seven other cars have been stolen in the city since last Wednesday. Five of the thefts are unsolved.

New Depot May Speed Appleton Mail Deliveries

Relocation of the Chicago and North Western Railroad passenger depot to the Junction depot on W. Second street may mean faster mail deliveries for Appleton residents, according to Francis Sumnicht, acting postmaster.

The 8:30 morning train arrives at the junction depot at 7:30 in the morning. It waits an hour before proceeding to the present passenger depot, where the mail now is unloaded.

Under the new arrangement, postal trucks will be able to pick up the mail at 7:30 in the morning, in time to dispatch the mail to carriers who leave the post office between 8:30 and 9 o'clock.

The postmaster said 80 per cent of the mail on the train is business letters.

Former Broker to Be Sentenced for Theft Wednesday

Merle E. Davidson, former Appleton real estate broker charged with 33 counts of theft from former clients, will be sentenced at 9:30 Wednesday morning by Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiege.

Davidson has admitted stealing $36,650 from 32 persons who gave him money as down payments on homes last July and August. His attorney asked for probation, adding that Davidson had been promised a job and could pay back the $36,650 in five to seven years.

Davidson fled Appleton last September and was arrested by the FBI in Des Moines, Iowa, in December. Still pending against him are forgery charges, stemming from FHA loan applications, but the federal authorities agreed to defer prosecution pending Davidson's trial on theft charges.

New Vacation Policy to be Set Later

How much vacation a policeman and fireman should receive after a year's service will be decided at the organizational meeting of the new city council in mid-April.

Public safety committeemen, confronted with the problem Monday, declined to recommend a policy and said they would bring it up at the organizational meeting.

Fire Chief Paul Neumann asked for clarification of existing policy after Mayor Robert Roemer said the fire department's policy was wrong.

Policemen and firemen receive two weeks vacation after a year's service, but there is a council rule which permits two weeks vacation only after two years of service.

The question handed the committee by Neumann and Acting Chief of Police Walter Hendricks and Police Traffic Lt. Harry Salzman is "Do the police and fire departments come under the general heading of 'all city employees'?"

Salzman said his department has been operating under a set of rules established through the fire and police commission in 1939. Both Hendricks and Neumann agreed the police and fire departments have been receiving two weeks vacation after a year's service for as long as they can remember and that's 33 years in Neumann's case.

Fined for Drunkenness After Pounding on Door

Melvin A. Lund, 35, 613 E. Calumet street, was fined $20 this morning in municipal court for drunkenness. He was arrested early Saturday morning when he pounded on the door of a home in the 2300 block of S. Greenview street.

Anthony K. Prue, 32, Willow Springs, Ill., was fined $10 for drunkenness.

attached garage to the residence at 906 W. Frances street for about $500.

Gilbert Schuster, who will remodel the residence at 507 E. Maple street for about $650.

Ask Council To Buy Truck, Paint, Cable

The public safety committee will recommend to the city council Wednesday night purchase of a half-ton pickup truck, paint for marking streets and traffic cable for the Wisconsin avenue stop-go lights.

The pickup truck would be purchased from Fox Valley Truck Service company, low bidder before the board of public works on March 4. It would cost $1,265, considering trade-in of a 1951 model truck. It would be used by the police department's street painting crew.

The paint would be purchased from Peerless Paint Manufacturing company, Appleton, for $2.32 a gallon. About 800 gallons are needed. The bid was fourth lowest. The low bid was submitted by Peerless, but was for a quick-drying paint which Traffic Lt. Harry Salzman said doesn't work too well. The second low bid type, from Waupun State prison, also was called unsatisfactory. Hamline Brothers, Baltimore, Md., third low bidder, was not considered because it is out of city and state. Its price was 2 cents a gallon lower than Peerless. Salzman said the city has been using Peerless paint for four or five years.

Low Bid

Langstadt Electric Supply was recommended to furnish the cable. Its bid was low, equalling $244.02 net per thousand feet of cable. About 10,000 feet of cable are needed.

The cable purchase was recommended after Chairman Homer Malmstrom announced the state has approved progression of traffic lights on Wisconsin avenue. L. W. Empey, district highway engineer, will send a progression plan for the lights, Malmstrom said.

Spokesmen for Wisconsin Telephone company, which reportedly has a plan to replace the present fire alarm cable system, will speak to the committee at its next meeting, Malmstrom announced. Committeemen asked to have them at Monday's meeting, but their request hasn't gone through council yet.

Plan to Build Restaurant on N. Richmond St.

Permission to build a 1-room restaurant on the north side of their building has been granted owners of Griesbach's Super Market, 500 N. Richmond street, by Building Inspector Walter Bogan.

Victor Greisbach, one of the owners, said the restaurant will be operated by Milton J. Scheurle, operator of Milt's Char-Lux Grill, 546 N. Richmond.

The restaurant will be 17 by 37 feet, Griesbach said, providing enough room for a 35-foot counter and four or five booths.

Other permits went to: Roman Kornely, who will remodel the residence at 119 S. Story street for about $500. Eric Kirk, who will build an

Irrigation of Truck Crops on Increase

Water Needs Cited As Necessity to Growing Industry

Madison — Irrigation of truck crop lands in the state is on the increase, according to statements by vegetable growing interests to a legislative interim committee considering revision of the state's water use laws.

In a posture of defense against expected demands for a curtailment of surface and ground waters for the irrigation of crops, the Wisconsin Canners association and the Wisconsin Potato Growers association elaborated the economic importance of water for irrigation in briefs filed with the committee.

The irrigation of canning crops is a new development in Wisconsin, related Marvin Verhulst of the Wisconsin Canners association, but it will be expanded.

Mostly from Wells Principal crop now irrigated is snap beans. The acreage of snap bean irrigation may reach 10,000 this year, the trade association official said, and most of the water will come from wells.

"We believe there are tremendous opportunities for improving the production of canning crops in Wisconsin by means of irrigation and we urge that new water use legislation not handicap this development," Verhulst said.

The Potato Growers group, dedicated to restoring an industry that has slipped precipitately in Wisconsin during recent decades, argued that irrigation is indispensable to the survival of potatoes as a significant crop in the state. Most of the potatoes are grown in the light and sandy soils of the north central counties, where the use of water during the growing season has been shown to improve yields heavily.

Tiny Satellite Starts Wave of Good Feeling

Vanguard's Success Comes During Time of Washington Doldrums

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Sometimes the flow of news creates an impression that we as a nation are in a bad way, so to speak, when all of a sudden a tiny sphere is catapulted into an orbit around the earth, and it starts a wave of good feeling with beeps of international approval.

Now the score is army-1 and navy-1 — a rivalry that soon may give us even more satellites in the air. As between Soviet Russia's "sputniks" and our own "explorer" and "vanguard," the score is two to two. Being even-up is a lot better than being behind. But what's more important, the scientific world seems to have begun to appreciate that American scientists are not so backward after all.

The news about Vanguard's successful flight into space comes at a time when Washington has been in the doldrums over the recession as well as over the alleged improprieties surrounding the federal regulatory commissions. Virtue is supposed to be struggling to emerge as against the invisible peddling of improper influence designed to sway decisions in some governmental agencies.

Subject to Criticism
Maybe the congressional investigations will assist in a broad sense the cause of righteousness. But the methods being used to attain such a laudable objective are still subject to severe criticism. Take the case of Col. George Gordon Moore, whose chief "sin" seems to be that he is related by marriage to President Eisenhower — they married sisters.

The colonel, it seems, was accused by a variety of innuendoes and smears, leaked out from the house committee. He was supposed to have assisted in some way in getting the Federal Communications Commission to issue a television license to an airline with the officers of which he had at one time done some business. He denied this unequivocally under oath, saying he had never contacted directly or indirectly anyone at all at the FCC or anybody else in the government about the airline's application for a TV license. He said he was not personally acquainted with any member of the FCC. He also swore that he had never contacted any member of any regulatory agency whatsoever in the federal government on behalf of anyone. He volunteered his testimony. He said he had submitted his files to the committee investigators beforehand.

Instead of examining in executive session all the various rumors and inferences concerning Moore's alleged activities and coming forth with an explicit statement that Moore had nothing to do with the pending case, some members of the congressional committee during a period of nearly three weeks had allowed the harmful impressions to continue to prevail through ambiguously worded comments, repeatedly casting doubts on the propriety of his activities and implying that maybe he had been guilty of some irregularity in connection with the federal communications commission. It seems as if some people will try almost anything in order to get in a dig at like or his family.

Improper Procedure
This sort of thing was condemned as improper procedure during the hearings on communist activities just a few years ago, but somehow the same criticisms, notably some of the more outspoken organizations in the field of civil liberties, seem to have had nothing to say about the bandying-about of Moore's name in this flagrant example of alleged "guilt by association."

In these days of expediency on the political and ideological fronts it is refreshing, therefore, to turn to a statement that is an example of courage and forthrightness. It comes from a United States Senator, Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, Democrat. He is noted for his common sense as well as his indifference to "political gobbledygook." He wrote a reply the other day to Dr. Joseph P. Kamp, associate professor of economics at Xavier university in Cincinnati, who had asked the senator what he thought of the suggestion that apart from any official "summit" conference, Khrushchev be invited to come to America for a visit. Senator Lausche said, in part: "The impact upon our allies and friends would be prejudicial to our cause. They would be justified in believing that

"Motivated solely by a desire to preserve itself, there has been no change in the Soviet concept that, by the very nature of things, communism cannot exist so long as there lives in the world any governmental unit ruling under a philosophy inconsistent with that of communism."

"I am convinced that the attitude of Khrushchev and his cohorts will not be changed through the contact that he makes with our way of life, with our governmental officials, and with our people. To him, the visit would be a tactical operation, believing that he could not influence the people of the United States toward communism, but that through the visit, he could undermine the trust and the confidence which the free people of the world have in our country."

Just why so many Americans want to see our highest officials fraternizing with the men of the Kremlin who have on their hands the blood of the Hungarian patriots is difficult to understand, particularly in a country dedicated to high ideals and where the slightest impropriety in our own governmental circles is pounced upon as a violation of public morals. ### Leaf Collecting Suggested To Reader as a Good Hobby

BY RAMON COFFMAN

Recently a reader asked me to suggest a good hobby. There are dozens of hobbies which I might name, but today I shall mention just one—the collecting of leaves.

All around us are trees and small plants and each kind has a special type of leaf. Without cost we can gather leaves, and a label may be placed on each one.

Q. What help does a leaf give to a plant?
A. It does most of the work of providing food. Minerals come from the sap which rises in a tree, after the roots drink moisture from the soil, but the main food supply is produced above ground.

The leaves of corn plants make enough food for billions of ears of corn.

The leaf has been called "the world's greatest food factory." It can turn sap and carbon dioxide into food. It produces sugary substances, including "glucose," also starch. Other things are needed to make that food factory operate. It must have sunshine, likewise the green coloring known as "chlorophyll," but pronounced CLO-ro-fil in either case.

Q. Why is the air important?
A. There is only a little carbon dioxide in ordinary air, hardly one part in three thousand, but it is of utmost importance to plant life.

A leaf takes carbon dioxide from the air, and uses it in making food. A chemical change takes place in the carbon dioxide when it is worked on by sunshine and the green coloring. That change frees the oxygen in the carbon dioxide. Back into the air goes the oxygen!

A square mile is likely to have millions of plants and blades of grass, and they make a big difference in freshening the air. Blades of green grass give off oxygen, the same as the leaves of trees.

Animals breathe out carbon dioxide as a waste product. Plants take the carbon dioxide from air, and give back oxygen.

City Eases Rush Hours' Bridge Demand

Now Ask Pleasure Boats to Wait for Break in Traffic

The city has softened its demand for prohibiting bridge openings during peak traffic hours.

Early in February the street and sanitation committee authorized Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski to seek federal government approval for keeping bridges closed during morning, noon and late afternoon traffic rushes.

The prohibition was to affect pleasure craft only.

Monday Duszynski said he has found out that an alternate plan stands more chance of receiving federal approval.

The government has, he said, given Oshkosh permission to stall pleasure craft for 15 minutes while bridge-tenders wait a break in traffic before opening a bridge. The policy, he said, is in effect during the late afternoon traffic rush, the one during which most pleasure craft ask for openings.

Tells Records

Appleton bridge-tenders' records, he said, show that last season there were 58 openings for commercial craft between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning, eight for commercial and 12 for pleasure craft between 11:45 in the morning and 1:15 in the afternoon and three commercial and 24 pleasure craft openings between 4 o'clock and 5:30 in the afternoon.

Duszynski said the first demand of the committee probably would be pigeon-holed by the army's corps of engineers, but the second, because of the Oshkosh precedent, probably would be given immediate approval.

Pleasure craft organizations, Duszynski said, have indicated they will not oppose having to wait 15 minutes for a bridge opening during the late afternoon traffic rush.

Two lights, one red, the other green, would tell boaters that the bridge-tender has heard their horns, Duszynski said. A green light would mean the bridge-tender is opening the bridge, a red one that he has heard and will open it as soon as possible.

Bridge-tenders during a public hearing on the city's application for permission to replace the S. Oneida street swing bridge said it takes 20 minutes to open and close the existing bridge.

Ald. Ervin J. Bogan in mid-January touched off discussion of bridge controls by asking the council to prohibit pleasure craft openings at peak traffic hours.

Test Council With Revised Street Policy

Agree With Half Of Proposal Made By Ald. Pointer

The full council will be tested Wednesday night for reaction to a 2-point, major revision of the city's street construction policy.

Ald. Roy Pointer, at the last council meeting, called for establishment of these two policies:

1. All primary streets should be surfaced with concrete or with concrete and asphalt.

2. All residential streets should be surfaced with hot sheet asphalt, or a higher type of surface.

Recommendations

Street and sanitation committee, to whom Pointer's resolution was referred, Monday agreed to recommend:

1. Improvement work on all residential streets should be left to the alderman to determine.

2. All primary streets be surfaced with concrete or concrete with asphalt, with some exceptions.

Aldermen presently are responsible for ordering residential street work and new construction, except in rare cases where the street has become badly deteriorated and the alderman refuses to request work.

Aldermen, in ordering residential work, usually inquire of people who own property on the street what they want done. Their requests usually represent the majority view.

Debate Ensues

Work on primary streets sometimes is ordered by the committee, sometimes by the alderman in whose ward it is. A debate often then ensues over

Street Committee Okays Proposed N. Richmond Work

Plans of the state for widening and resurfacing N. Richmond street from W. College avenue to the north city limits were approved Monday by the street and sanitation committee.

The project, Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski announced Monday, is expected to cost $380,000, with the city's share to approach $80,000.

N. Richmond has a 66-foot-wide right-of-way. It is 37 feet wide from W. College to W. Glendale north to the city limits and, in fact, Highway 41.

Widening work would be done with concrete. The surfacing would be with asphalt over the top of the existing and the new concrete.

The city's share will be assessed against abutting property owners. If the council approves the project Wednesday night, the board of public works will set assessment charges and a public hearing will be scheduled before the city council.

$100 Million in Cash Reported Lost in 1957

Carelessness Usually Cause, Expert Finds; American Man Found to be Heaviest Loser

BY HAL BOYLE

New York — Money may be harder to get now—but it's still easy to lose.

A survey by the American Express company showed that U.S. citizens reported losing more than $100,000,000 in cash last year, in most cases through their own carelessness.

This is enough to buy a Harvard education for 10,000 students—or to build a community of 5,000 homes costing $20,000 each.

Astonishing as this figure is, Donald E. J. MacNamara, crime consultant for the express company, says it doesn't tell the whole story.

"The reported losses alone came to $100,000,000," he pointed out, "but the amount of money actually inadvertently lost each year, and not reported, is probably many times that figure."

MacNamara, dean of the New York Institute of Criminology, spent 15 years abroad as an investigator for the armed forces and has concluded, "Americans are by far the most careless people in the world with money."

And the American man, not the American woman, is the major culprit.

Many Losses Unreported

"If you ask the average man how much money he has in his pocket, he rarely can tell you," said MacNamara. "A woman usually can."

The average reported loss is about $44.

"A man often won't even bother to report a loss if it is less than $25," said MacNamara, "but if a woman loses a quarter in a restaurant, she'll report it to the manager."

If your car is stolen from you, you have a 95 per cent chance of regaining it. But only 10 per cent of lost money is ever returned. The most popular period for losing money is around Christmas and Easter and during the peak travel months of July and August.

"Although most money is lost outside the home," said MacNamara, "hidden money in the house is often lost, too."

"People still hide money in a furnace in the summer, forget, and burn it up the next winter. Or they bury it, only to discover later that mice, rot, insects or water have ruined it. Every year about 45,000 people bring currency fragments to the U.S. treasury, hoping to redeem it."

"Or they leave it where small children can find it, throw it out the window, cut it into paper dolls, or flush it down the bathroom plumbing."

Question on Offering Aid To Neighbor

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: The husband of a neighbor of ours was taken ill about a month ago and has been in the hospital ever since. They are people of average means and I am sure this has made an alarming dent in their savings. As a matter of fact, the wife has mentioned the "staggering bills" to me once or twice. I would like to know if it would be proper to offer to lend her some money. I would like to help her out if she is in need of financial aid, but on the other hand, I do not want to hurt her feelings by implying that she can't pay her bills. What would you advise in this situation?

Answer: If you are able to help her, you might say: "I know you are having these awful expenses and I am wondering if it would help if I lent you some money with which to pay part of them." You might add: "At the moment my finances happen to be in good shape, so that I can easily do it." This could certainly in no way hurt anyone's feelings.

All-Day Wedding

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to have the wedding ceremony in the morning and the reception take place in the evening?

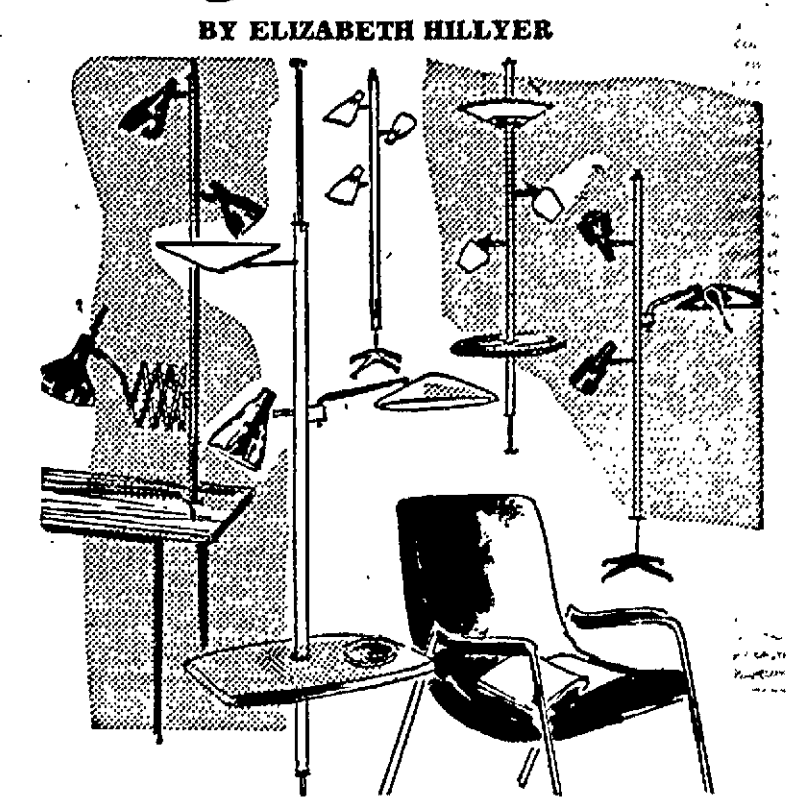

Answer: Correctly, the wedding reception should follow immediately after the ceremony. In my opinion, nothing could be more inconsiderate of wedding guests than to expect them to go home and change into other clothes, watch the clock, dress again in wedding clothes and go back for the reception. And in the case of out-of-town guests who can't go home the inconvenience is even greater.

Women Dancing

Dear Mrs. Post: When dining in a restaurant where there is dancing, is it proper for two women to get up and dance together?

Answer: Only if it is customary for women to dance together in that particular restaurant.

Design Own Lighting With New Kind of Light Pole

The new kind of light pole, chair—and all can be chosen for indoors, comes with many new spare parts this spring, to make it more than ever a design-your-own lighting idea. New reflectors throw light upward, others spread it widely downward. Bullet lights and table trays take new shapes and a scissor-armed light reaches afar. The pole itself is a shock-proof electrical column which attaches to the floor or to a table and to the ceiling. Any of the individual lights attach to it at any point.

New tree lamps, too, have the same talents while they sit on the floor as a floor lamp does, but they aren't a necessity for high-ceilinged rooms because new poles adjust from 9 1/2 to 11 1/2 feet. Study the situation first then decide on what's specifically needed for the best lighting where the pole lamp is to go—perhaps upward light for general illumination, a bullet turned to make a picture sparkle, a reading light over a

Larry F.—My wife wants me to go to college.

Linda F.—He is rude to my friends.

Larry F.—My wife and I have been unhappily married for two years and are just about ready to call it quits.

We had been going together off and on for about ten years —since our high school years. We got along just fine as friends, but as soon as we started to consider marriage all kinds of disagreements arose. Linda doesn't like the work I do and wants me to go to college nights to "better" myself. I think that's silly as I earn a good living as a salesman and I don't see how college would help me.

I never did like most of Linda's friends and she didn't care for mine. We agree that we'd have our separate friends, but this doesn't seem to work out.

Linda F.—Larry and I agreed that if our marriage didn't work out after two years, we would separate. It hasn't seemed to work out, yet I find that I am lonely when I am not with him and dread being alone now that all my friends are married.

I don't feel that Larry has tried to meet me halfway. I've tried very hard to please him by keeping a nice home and being affectionate and considerate. But I don't see that he does anything to please me. He knows how much I want him to go to college, but he is so stubborn about it.

I would be willing to accept Larry's friends if he would be decent and courteous to mine.

The question of friends is probably closely tied up with this issue. Linda has certain social ambitions her husband does not share. If she values her marriage, she'll compromise.

We don't mean to put all the blame on Linda. Larry shows lack of love for his wife and lack of sincere effort to create a good marriage when he makes no attempt to understand her feelings or to respect her friends and ambitions.

Their long association before marriage is proof that Larry and Linda are drawn together in many ways, in spite of all their conflicts. They need to find the areas that bind them and build from there, dealing honestly and gently with the areas of conflict.

Reverse Technique If Menfolk Applaud Sack Look, Women Will Quickly Tire of It

BY HAL BOYLE

New York — Can 50 million American men be wrong?

Will their wives, sisters, mothers and daughters really go for that new so-called "sack look" in their clothing?

The answer is yes, the men are wrong, and, yes, the American woman seems already sold on the chemise silhouette in everything from nightgowns to evening dresses. As far as milady herself is concerned, she's in the bag.

It will do no good for the average husband to announce sternly he will refuse to escort in public a wife dressed to resemble an ambulant sugar sack or a strolling bean bag. For no matter whose wife he goes out with, that's how she is going to look.

At the risk of being denounced as a traitor by millions of American men still unreconciled to the new feminine styles, I'd like to cast a solid vote in favor of them. And for several reasons.

For one thing, they make it easier to tell men and women apart, something that has been getting more and more difficult in this civilization.

Helps Identify

How can you identify them at a glance? If it wears an ivy league (or skinned rabbit) look, it is a man. If it billows like a sailboat in a strong breeze as it passes, it is a woman.

Going for a walk with a girl clad in one of these not-quite-blown-up balloon dresses has a new air of risk and requires a certain daring challenging to a real man. He never knows when a sudden gust of wind may swirl her drapery around him and smother him before bystanders can rush to his aid.

Another thing I find entrancing in the new style is the sense of mystery it gives a woman. You can never tell what will be her next move — as she has to take four steps before the dress begins going, too. It also lends some of the entrancing appeal of a circus tent: you wonder what could be beneath all that flapping canvas.

Perhaps, however, the soundest reason of all for endorsing the "sack look" is that if their menfolk applaud it women will quickly tire of it, figuring there must be something basically wrong with any fashion that men approve.

But if men keep attacking the style, the girls will simply be inspired to go on to something worse. And anyone who thinks there can't be anything worse than the "sack look" is just plain unversed in the history of past horrors committed by women in the name of fashion.

Most 'Repulsive' Look

Lifelong students of women have always been fascinated by the query, "at what period in the long story of the human race did women really look most repulsive?"

Surprisingly, there is pretty general agreement on the answer. It was just 30 years ago, during the brief era of the flapper in the roaring 1920's.

The flapper wore a cloth hat that fitted as closely as a Greek helmet. She wore a shapeless short gownsack dress and ornamented it — so help me — with tassels and beads. She rolled her socks below her knees.

And finally — young men won't believe this, but it's true — she wore something called a spit curl.

That was the flapper, an eerie brass-voiced dame whose dance was a zulu-derivative known as the Charleston.

Nope, fellows, it's better (far, far better) to go quietly along with the "sack look" until women repent of their own accord and go on to other and nobler forms of madness. But get 'em really riled, and they might take the bit in their teeth and decide to become flappers again — just to put us in our place.

Charges Fizzle Fischer's Highway Investigation Evaporates Under Committee Probe

hashing the stuff you said in front of the board last week. If you don't have any charges, say so," Root shouted.

Fischer replied that it would take additional exploration to develop his information. He refused to indicate what that information was.

Investigation Gear

Fischer arrived at the executive board meeting complete with investigation equipment—a briefcase, folders and a tape recorder. After a flurry of argument, the committee allowed Fischer to use the tape recorder. He ran out of tape during the afternoon and missed about an hour of discussion before he got another roll.

Fulcer remarked that he expected some specific charges, but did not see any develop. Fischer also charged a part-time employee had received vacation and sick leave pay, but highway department records indicated the man received the pay within regulations and as a full-time employee.

Fischer several times tried to get the committee to discuss and investigate the county versus contractor construction argument he has fought since last fall. However, Fulcer and Corporation Counsel Raymond Doh carefully pointed out that the full board set general county policy, as in road construction, not the executive committee.

Lectures Given

Fischer found himself on the receiving end of several lectures on how the county government operates, what comprises hearsay and direct evidence, how towns operate and just what an investigation of county affairs should consist of and how it develops.

Members of the executive committee commented after the meeting that Fischer's charges were nothing and the committee simply wasted a day listening to repetition of Tuesday's board session.

The executive committee will make up its report to the board on the necessity of an investigation into the highway department next Monday.

Members of the committee are Fulcer, Root, Shocton Supv. George F. Miller, Black Creek Supv. John Fuhrman and Appleton Seventeenth ward Supv. Harry J. Cunningham.

Official Defends School System All Children Should Have Education, Convention Told

Principles of American public education were defended by Theodore Sorenson, Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction official, in an address to an Outagamie county school board convention in Appleton this morning.

Despite efforts to change the system to catch up with Russian scientific advances, American schools should continue to teach all children, instead of only gifted youngsters, Sorenson told the board members.

"The most important 'Three R's' in education today," he declared, are rights, respects and responsibilities, Sorenson emphasized.

Discusses Duties

In a discussion of school board duties, the official listed three necessities for broad responsibility. He called for interest in children's welfare, advancement of education and a willingness to devote time and effort to public welfare.

"In no other place but a school board are decisions so far reaching and results so immediately apparent," Sorenson declared.

"School board membership represents public trust of the highest order. It offers great opportunities to serve the public by leadership and planning."

Sorenson named highway safety as an important teaching task of present-day schools.

School boards should be aware that Wisconsin needs 6,000 new classrooms by 1960 at a cost of $200 million, he stated. Other problems facing boards are the need for additional teachers and greater transportation facilities, Sorenson said.

Plans for the May conference for the northeast district were to be formulated at the meeting. Date for the spring conference will be May 21. The northeastern federation includes missionary groups from churches ranging from Marinette to Appleton.

Mrs. W. H. Gammel, wife of the pastor of Zion Lutheran church, who serves as northeastern president, called the delegates to order. Other officers from Appleton participating were Mrs. Herman Tock, chairman of the New Guinea department, Mrs. Hillard Weiss, chairman of the special needs division and Mrs. Joseph Lang, Mission educational chairman.

Medical Auxiliary To Meet Thursday

The auxiliary to the Outagamie county Medical society will meet at 6:30 Thursday night for a dinner at the Appleton Elks club. The slate of new officers will be presented by the nominating committee.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. James Curry and Mrs. R. S. Simenson.

Pre-School Story Hour

Miss Janet Meili, children's librarian, will tell "The Curious Kitten," "The Funny Thing" and "Ferdinand" at 10:30 Wednesday morning during the Appleton public library's weekly story hour for pre-school youngsters and their mothers.

Winter Trying To Give State Final Licks

Winter seemed determined today to get some final licks at Wisconsin.

Light snow and flurries were reported over the state Monday and Monday night and were expected to continue at least through Wednesday.

The snow falling Monday on the Fox Cities melted as it hit the ground and added up to .02 of melted precipitation, according to the Wisconsin Michigan Power company.

Up to two inches of snow fell beneath dismal skies in parts of the state today, with the Colfax-Eau Claire area receiving the largest amount. The thin covering of snow in the southern part of the state had disappeared by mid-morning.

Warmest Spot

Nighttime temperatures were mostly in the 20s and the low 30s. Appleton had 32, and along with Green Bay was the warmest spot in the state overnight. The low was 25 at Park Falls.

Temperatures during the day Monday were in the 30s and low 40s. Appleton had a high of 38, while Lone Rock with 43 topped the state. Superior was the coolest spot Monday with 34.

The state forecast calls for mostly cloudy with scattered snow flurries and not much change in temperature tonight and Wednesday. The low tonight will be from 22 to 30 and the high Wednesday from 35 to 45.

PTA Takes Action on Youth Study

Roosevelt Parents Want Juvenile Bureau In Police Department

Five resolutions aimed at cutting down juvenile delinquency and improving police service in Appleton were passed by the Roosevelt Junior High School Parent-Teacher association Monday night.

The action was taken as culmination of a year-long study on the subject. Three public meetings prior to Monday's were used as information-gathering sessions.

The PTA voted to establish a permanent youth committee to work with the Community council, to recommend to the city council that a juvenile bureau be established in the police department and that a juvenile representative be sent to a juvenile delinquency control course at the University of Wisconsin.

Endorses Center

Also passed was a resolution endorsing the proposed Community Guidance center and asking the county board to appropriate $25,000 to establish the center.

The group further recommended that the new youth committee continue to study the court system and juvenile court in Appleton, as well as the state juvenile code.

Discussion leaders were Miss Frances Buffham, Thomas Blumett, Mrs. Walter Mumme, Martin Downs, William Gallaher and Mrs. Herbert Spiegelberg.

Acting as consultant was Miss Betty Brown, Madison, a representative of the juvenile delinquency control division of the state department of public welfare.

Paper Company Starts Award For Lawrence

One annual full-tuition scholarship to Lawrence college has been established by the Riverside Paper corporation, according to E. C. Hilfert, president of the firm.

This is the second scholarship established by the company at Lawrence. The C. B. Clark scholarships, begun earlier, are designated for children of employees. The new scholarship has no such restriction, and is available to a graduate of any of the Appleton high schools—public or parochial. The recipient will be selected by the college scholarship committee with approval of a representative of the corporation.

The first scholarship was named in memory of the late president of the corporation, who was for many years a trustee of Lawrence college.

Fair Price Group To Appeal to Ike On Dairy Supports

Shiocton — The Fair Price committee will seek the assistance of the Wisconsin Chamber of Commerce and the Wisconsin Bankers association, in their drive to stop the milk price cut, due April 1.
An appeal will be made to President Eisenhower not to veto legislation freezing milk support prices until a new dairy program is formulated and put in force, according to Milo Singler, Fair Price committee chairman.
Hilmer Mueller, Seymour, president of Outagamie County Holstein Breeders association, Henry Schaefer, Appleton, of the Wisconsin State grange, and Wesley Newhouse, Freedom, director of the Pure Milk Products association, will serve as advisors to the Fair Price committee.
The committee is working to get all major farm organizations to agree on one sound, self-help dairy program.

Pegler Recalls Old Income Tax Probes

Wonders Why Justice Department Doesn't Investigate Wallace

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER
New York — I am drawing together odds and ends of knowledge of the political administration of the income tax. It seems that now, days the perpetual grand juries of both houses of congress, the committees to investigate one thing and another, are the only authorities with the power, but has never evinced a desire to explore episodes which have the appearance of conspiracies to coerce individuals from their rights. In the cases I have in mind the statute of limitations may have run, but a committee of congress could whip up at least a light froth of public interest in the jobs that were done on Henry Wallace, Alben Barkley and Paul V. McNutt with which I deal herewith:
A few years ago, an internal revenue agent of long experience in the work of combining tax returns told me that the treasury had run up a tax deficiency liability of about one million dollars, against Henry Wallace. He said Wallace got the works because he had written sneering cracks about F. D. Roosevelt in those goofy guru letters to Nicholas Roerich. You may remember these letters as a fantastic mess of oriental gibberish which finally were published verbatim in these dispatches after Roosevelt had died.
Same Old Frances
By the way, the same Frances Grant who had served as forwarding agent to transmit this trash from Bubblehead in Washington to his mahatma in Mongolia is now organizing a complicated revolutionary political deal in a cluster of South American republics or dictatorships. It seems they want a lot of democracy down yonder. I talked with her the other day and she is our same dear old Frances, who was telling me a few years ago that she was in terror lest Bubblehead pass a weird Oriental political hex on her and cause her to vanish into some river in a barrel of cement.
I never had the high opinion that some people held of Henry as an amiable, drooling, harmless nut who wouldn't hurt a hornet to spare his own snout. But I never did believe that Frances was really scared and reckoned that she asked me to take it easy, not to save herself from a nameless fate but so that she could quietly vanish to reappear in some new political machinations as she has now done. However, this light flick is all for just now, as I desire to give the girl and these new Latin American deals a gala treatment in another of my fearless exposures at an early date.
This mention of activities at Roerich's lamastery where Bubblehead used to sneak around blowing incense out of his ears in his role as vice president of the United States is to set before you the reason why Roosevelt was sore at Bubbles. An internal revenue field agent named James N. Sullivan, now retired from the service into other practice as a professional investigator, was the one who told me about the Bubblehead tax matter. Sullivan said, "Oh, it was just a hatchet job."

He said Roosevelt got sore over those cracks in those letters calling him "the wavering one" and other such uncompromising descriptions. Sullivan said our commander-in-chief there upon set in motion the gears of the internal revenue, which can grind exceeding fine. Sullivan said there never was any intention, however, to send Wallace to jail or to fine or assess him a million. He said, as I have said, "It was just a hatchet job" and the agent who told me of all this, and one other agent then in the same field, corroborated that after the treatment, including sleepless nights such as Joe Kennedy spent during the five years when they had him operating a regular tax office of his own on Park avenue, N.Y., under the legal management of his old friend and protegee, Jim Landis, the internal revenue stuck the Wallace job into a drawer and put it to sleep.
Picked Clean
Kennedy has been demure about his troubles, but I take it that they, too, have been put to rest. With his boy, Jack, out in the front in the early heats of Democratic campaign for nomination, it certainly does seem to many of us cynics that somebody is spending a lot of real money on Jack's behalf, and it seems to me that the revenue picked Joe Kennedy clean, after all.
Well, that committee of congress, whichever one may cotton to a tasty scandal, might then inquire whether my original revenue informant, who disclosed the Wallace deal, was equally correct in his understanding that Alben Barkley made an awful bundle of money out of memorized speeches and another bundle buying up farms around Paducah that chanced to lie in the midst of a big federal spending operation for atomic energy.
My man, whose tip was so true on Bubbles that Sullivan confirmed the basic fact, said Barkley did not file an income

Nash Attacks Indian Law As 'Immoral'

Menominees Need Time to Ready Selves For End of Supervision

A law ending government jurisdiction over the Menominee Indian reservation was termed "politically immoral" by Phil Nash, former state Democratic party chairman, in an address to Outagamie county Democrats Monday night.

Under the Menominee Termination act of 1954, the tribe was given until December of this year to formulate a substitute for abandonment of federal trusteeship, Nash explained.

Attacks GOP

Nash and national administration state and national administrations for what he called shortsighted policies in dealing with the Menominees. He said the tribe is not ready for self-government.

"While many other Indian groups in the nation found their lands dwindling, their wealth declining and their welfare deteriorating, the Menominee made significant advances politically, culturally and economically," Nash declared.

The former state chairman reviewed the history of the Menominee tribe since the law placing their land under federal protection was passed in 1908. Nash declared a loss of federal wardship would cause a conservation crisis.

Forest Production

He said the Menominee forest annually produces 36 million board feet—20 per cent of Wisconsin's marketable timber. It supports education, health and welfare facilities for 3,200 persons.

"The lumber companies are eager to get their hands on that timber," Nash declared.

"Given a continuation of the policies and programs of the last 50 years, the forest will be a perpetual symbol of enlightened conservation and co-operation of government and people for betterment of all."

Tribe Agreed

Nash noted that the tribe had agreed to termination of wardship but said state and national governments have been slow in formulating policies for continued protection of Indian lands.

During the business meeting, the Democrats voted to schedule meetings on the fourth Monday of the month.

Mrs. William Cherkasky, party chairman, announced the Outagamie county membership total now is 266.

Glass Broken

Police are investigating breaking of a 1-foot square glass in the door of Wilson Appliance and TV Sales and Service, 729 W. College avenue. Police said the door was broken Sunday night, but there was no apparent entry.

Pool Site Decision May be Month Away

Committeemen Await Approval From Institute

It may be a month or more before a decision is made on a site for the proposed outdoor swimming pool.

A 2-man delegation from the city council's special pool site committee made that appraisal of the situation Monday.

Aldermen Kenneth Priebe and Thomas K. Schneider said the delay is expected while Institute of Paper Chemistry officials decide whether to offer land adjacent to the S. East street site.

Odd Shape Schneider and other pool site committeemen last week made the S. East street site, a triangular-shaped piece just north of the north end of S. East, their choice and authorized start of negotiations.

Mrs. Anna Pauer, 602 E. Harrison street, and Mrs. Martha Campbell, 830 E. Harrison street, own the triangular tract and are asking $18,000. Pool site committeemen last week said they thought the price was slightly high.

Committeemen also expressed fear the tract was too oddly shaped to permit construction of the pool and other buildings and still permit extension eastward of E. McKinley street to meet the pool site parcel.

Because of this, the committee appointed Priebe and Schneider to talk with institute officials. The institute owns the land immediately east of the east line of the tract.

Priebe said T. B. Wadsworth, institute controller, and Robert D. Rae, institute engineer, said the institute probably would be willing to donate a strip between 30 and 50 feet wide. Institute President John Strange was ill so the delegation couldn't talk with him. Rae and Wadsworth agreed to take up the matter with Strange.

Schneider said he was told the executive committee of the institute could be polled any time and its approval would be tantamount to final approval.

Final approval, however, would have to come from the board of trustees, which meets May 15, Schneider said.

Both Priebe and Schneider said they feel it would be proper to commence plans for a pool on the S. East site in advance of the trustees meeting if the executive board favors the move.

Hager will vacate the store section of the building on Wisconsin avenue but will continue to operate his music school in the remainder of the building. Hager operates an accordion school and has about 200 students.

Plan Study of Reformatory At Green Bay

Legislative Unit To Review Costs And Operations

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The operation and the cost of the Wisconsin state reformatory near Green Bay will come under the legislative study soon.

A legislative interim committee has decided to give intensive study to the reformatory as a representative example of the numerous custodial, treatment and other institutions operated by the big agency.

The committee has indicated it will make inspection trips to the institution, the first to come fairly early in the spring.

(Assemblyman Edward Seymour of DePere, acquainted with the reformatory through his near-by residence, has frequently complained in legislative discussions about the operations of the institution. Seymour has been critical of the level of state expenditures on the whole. He is a member of the legislature's joint finance committee.)

Invited to Visit Wilbur J. Schmidt, director of the welfare department, has invited the committee to visit all of the institutions, to learn at first hand some of their problems and their goals.

Single Men Still Certain To Be Drafted

Washington — Selective service officials said Saturday that physically fit and "unencumbered" young single men still face "a 100 per cent certainty" of being drafted by the time they are about 23.

This is true despite relatively low draft calls, now running 13,000 a month, because of the country's total military manpower demands for active, reserve and National Guard service, the officials said.

By "unencumbered" young single men, they said, they referred to those who do not enter critical occupations, the National Guard, the reserves, or other fields in which they may gain deferment or exemption.

Neither marriage nor fatherhood is ground for deferment. However, fatherhood is a basis for delay in induction. Hardship on dependents is a deferment qualification.

Non-Fathers First Under regulations in effect since Feb. 15, 1956, local boards call nonfathers 19 through 25 years of age ahead of fathers of similar ages.

In that connection, the service's 1956-57 annual report for

New Richmond is chairman of the legislative study group. The reformatory lately has a population that is the highest in its history. Its per capita expenditures over the years have been well below those for most of the other institutions operated by the welfare department.

Some Mental Patients Go Back to Work

Release Program Is Working Well, State Officers Say

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Commitment to one of the state institutions for mental defectives doesn't always mean a life-time of incarceration as is widely supposed.

The state department of public welfare has disclosed that an increasing number of per-the year ended last June 30 says "whether the noninduction of fathers has stimulated marriages may be problematical, but in any event this group of I-A fathers more than doubled during fiscal year 1957, increasing from 151,000 to 369,712."

Under present procedures, local draft boards fill their monthly quotas first from any delinquents and volunteers who are 19 or older, and then from the nonfathers aged 19 through 25 who have been examined and found acceptable.

Delinquents are those who have not complied with all selective service regulations, such as those requiring that draft boards be notified of changes in address.

The oldest nonfathers are forwarded to induction centers first. The age of these inductees now is generally close to 23.

Appleton Post-Crescent 16 Tuesday, March 18, 1958

sons trained for a period at two state colonies for mentally deficient persons are being released on employment paroles. During the last decade 848 of such patients have been sent from Chippewa Falls and Union Grove into private employment, under the close supervision of state social workers.

Trial Placements Trial placements are made at first, when the patient has "matured emotionally" and has shown some ability and responsibility, the department explains.

The jobs are chosen carefully, for the individual requirements of the patient.

The typical patient leaving the state institution under such circumstances during the last year was a male, about 34 years of age, with an intelligence quotient of 74 who had spent 13 years at the state colony under state care. He was placed on a farm.

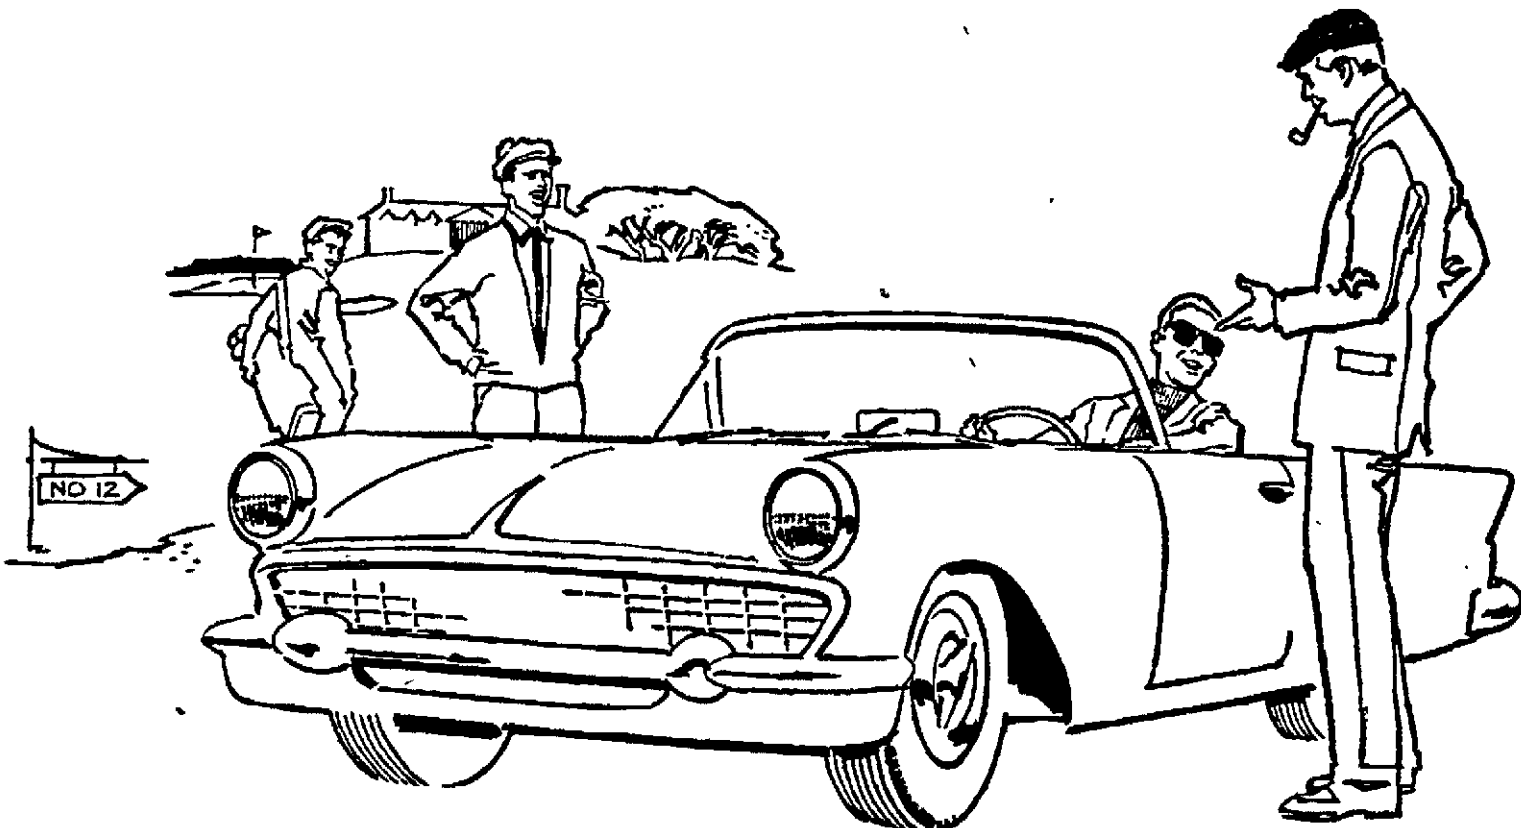

Most of the employment paroles of the last ten years resulted in permanent discharges which proved the worth of the program, state officials assert.

No Plans Too Bold, New York Authority Says

Letter Quoted by Tolversen, C of C Committee Head

Neenah — "It is impossible in times changing as rapidly as ours to make plans that are too bold," a New York industrial designer and planning authority was quoted as saying today by Leon Tolversen, chairman of the Neenah community planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The chamber has held that a general city plan should be obtained before the city begins construction of a new police station. Voters will approve or disapprove of the new police facilities in a referendum on April 1.

George Nelson, in his letter to Tolversen which was released today, cited two difficulties met by people favoring city planning. "Americans by tradition do not believe in looking ahead," Nelson said. "We apparently have not yet learned at the urban level that the price for refusing to plan can be very high." The second obstacle cited "is reflected in the existence of thousands of individual owners of buildings and real estate who can be induced to cooperate for their own good only with the greatest difficulty."

"The unwillingness to think ahead and to prepare for the future can be coped with by presenting in a clear way the price being paid for no planning in the past. The latter is more difficult and yet such recent examples as the redevelopment of the Golden Triangle in Pittsburgh suggests that leaders in the business community may well be reaching the point where they can see their own interests best served by working together to preserve community values," Nelson concluded.

The accident occurred in front of 307 E. Forest avenue. The driver of the truck, Wilford F. Two Senior Boys To Get $2,000 for Engineering Study Menasha — Marathon foundation again is making available two 4-year scholarships valued at $2,000 each which will go to graduating high school students attending schools in Wisconsin and Michigan communities where the Marathon division of American Can company operates.

The scholarships will be for study in the fields of chemical, electrical or mechanical engineering.

Carl R. Geisler, Marathon's vice president in charge of industrial relations, announced that male students graduating by the end of the 1958 summer term from Ashland, Green Bay, Menasha, Neenah, Marinette, Rothschild, Wausau and Menominee, Mich., high schools are eligible to apply for the scholarships.

This is the seventh year that scholarships have been offered and the fourth consecutive year in which two scholarships will be awarded. Don W. Fitzpatrick of Menasha and John D. Huppler of Neenah won last year's scholarships. Both are attending the University of Wisconsin.

Deadline April 1
Descriptive material and application forms will be available from school superintendents and principals. Completed applications must be submitted to school superintendents or principals, not to Marathon, by April 1.

Selection will be based upon the student's potential for success in engineering work within industry. Candidates will be chosen by high school faculty selection committees appointed at each school by the superintendent or principal. Each committee will review the applications and will recommend to the Marathon foundation scholarship committee the application considered best qualified.

Recommended candidates then will be invited to Marathon's general office at Menasha during April for interviews and examinations. From these candidates, the Marathon scholarship committee will choose the winners who will be announced about May 1.

Recipients of the Marathon foundation college scholarship will be able to attend any college or university operating within Marathon scholarship requirements.

Scholarships are awarded for the period of time necessary to complete undergraduate work toward a bachelor's degree. Provision is made for any recipient who may prefer to attend a college or university which has the combination work-study, or cooperative program. Marathon foundation officials point out that awards are outright financial grants requiring no repayment.

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED: Textile. Pronounce second syllable as "till," preferred.

OFTEN MISPELLED: Elude; two "l's." Elude; only one "l."

Mrs. R. E. Thickers Visits People on Guadalcanal and New Hebrides

BY JEAN WILEY THICKENS

Aboard the Bergensfjord—it has been a great privilege to visit two of the South Pacific islands on which our U.S. armed forces did some of their most courageous and tragic fighting in the late war—Guadalcanal and the New Hebrides.

Honiara, the capital city of Guadalcanal, is really only a small village. It was built after World War II because the Japanese had bombed out of existence the former village of Tulagi.

The island is large, beautiful and very mountainous. The shore is outlined with groves of coconut palms, interspersed with fields used only for growing yams or for pasture.

The Spanish under Alvaro de Mendana discovered the islands in 1598. Here he set up a cross and held the first Christian services in the Solomon islands, of which Guadalcanal is a part. That spot now is part of the landing area for ships.

Sunken Vessels
The coast today is lined with sunken, rusted ships, both American and Japanese. One of the bays, of which there are many beautiful ones, is named Rusty Bottom bay. When flying over the area many other sunken ships can be seen beneath the crystal clear water.

Besides coconuts, the islanders raise copra, sell some lumber and a great many shells, most of which are shipped to Australia or New Zealand. No one seems to work very hard at anything.

We were entertained in the main square—actually a cricket field—with some native singing and dancing given by a group of young Solomon island girls from a church of England school. The songs mostly were Christian hymns and the native dancing was restrained in comparison to what we saw in New Guinea and Tahiti. Christian teaching was evident in everything the students did.

Both Melanesians and Polynesians inhabit these islands, the former usually smaller in stature and more savage-looking. The natives living in the coastal areas exposed to the white race are apt to be Christians. This is a fertile field for the missionary, but looking at some of the fierce faces of the natives and their long-pointed spears, one cannot help wondering just how deep this Christian training has gone. The people have their own tribal dialects on all these South Pacific islands, but many of them also speak a form of pigeon English which is most amusing.

New Hebrides
The New Hebrides islands were our next port of call and there was time only to stop for one day at Vila, the largest village of the main island of this group. There are 80 islands in all, with 12 of them uninhabited. All appear to be very fertile and beautiful.

We were surprised to find both French and British flags flying on the few buildings in Vila when we came ashore. We were told that the Hebrides are jointly administered by the French and British governments, both countries sharing expenses for education and road maintenance, such as it is. The roads are very few and very bad.

We visited several villages where the houses are made from coconut matting with thatched roofs. The families sleep on floor mats and cook outdoors over open fires.

It was interesting to note that many families used old discarded electric or gas stoves for storing food. There was neither gas nor electricity in the villages; in fact we saw no means of illumination for the houses.

The people were friendly and smiling, inviting us in to see how they live. Many of the tiny villages were on the shores of beautiful lagoons where the water was so clear we could see down 30 or 40 feet.

Shark Menace
We all imagined what wonderful swimming these people must enjoy until we were enlightened by a young native missionary who directs one of the native schools. He told us that during the last month alone two swimmers had been attacked and killed by sharks. One young native woman carrying her baby had been swimming in water only to her waist when she was attacked. She managed to throw her child up on shore before the shark got her.

The tropics is not all romance, by any means. The people who live there also are bothered by huge leeches that fasten to the skin, suck the blood and cause considerable pain and sometimes even serious damage.

But the weather is beautiful, life is easy and no one hurries. The natives seem to accept their lot gracefully. It is hard to believe that the gracious and friendly young Presbyterian missionary with whom we chatted had parents who had been cannibals and head hunters, but that is what he told us.

'Doc' Weiske Named Ripon's Cage Coach

Fort Atkinson
High School Mentor
Succeeds Young

Ripon—Kermit "Doc" Weiske, a 1950 graduate of Ripon college and now the athletic director and basketball coach at Fort Atkinson High school, has been named head basketball coach at Ripon college.

In making the announcement this morning, Dr. Fred Pinkham, college president, said that Weiske will also be the golf coach and assistant football coach. He will be an assistant professor in the department of physical education.

Weiske replaces Russ Young who resigned recently.

Born in 1929, Weiske attended Berlin High school. While a student at Ripon college, he was all-conference basketball center for three years, and participated in football and track. He earned four letters each in football and basketball.

In 1950 and 1951 Weiske was head coach at Fort Atkinson. Between 1951 and 1953 he served as an athletic non-commissioned officer in the Army.

His 6-year basketball record at Fort Atkinson includes 99 wins and 33 losses. Weiske and his wife Lois have two children.

Jim Landis Aims for .280 Batting Mark

Tampa, Fla. —(AP)—Jim Landis, the good-field, no-hit centerfielder, is determined to boost his batting average to .280 or even .300 this season.

And Chicago White Sox Manager Al Lopez is going to give Landis every opportunity.

"We're going to go with Landis," says Lopez. "We'll give him every chance to make good. He's got a good swing, and he has enough power. I think he can make it."

Why should a player who batted .212 in 96 games hope to reach .280 or .300?

"I've learned a lot," says Landis. "I feel better and stronger. I've got more confidence and I'm not pressing."

Working with Landis are batting coach Ron Northey and pitcher Early Wynn, who as a member of the Cleveland staff, had a lot to do with keeping Landis' average in the lower .200s.

Braves Send 6 Rookie Pitchers Back to Minor League Affiliates

Bradenton, Fla. —(AP)—The Milwaukee Braves sent six rookie pitchers back to minor league affiliates Monday.

Dale Hendrickson was returned to Atlanta, Ga., in the Class AA Southern association. Rejoining Wichita, Kan., in the American association, are Jerry Nelson, Claude Raymond, Ken MacKenzie, Bob Hartman and Terry Fox, plus catcher Sid Goldfader.

The players had been invited to train with the Braves this spring, but were not carried on the club's roster.

Old Abes Face Big Job In Tourney's 1st Round

Meet Champs Thursday; Ellis Says
Shawano Has the Horses to Win Again

BY CHUCK CAPALDO

Madison —(AP)—Eau Claire may be biting off more than it can chew Thursday afternoon when it takes on defending champion Shawano in the opening round of the state high school basketball tournament, but the Old Abes' Coach Harry Gibbs would rather have it that way.

"That's the team I'd rather play right off the bat," said Gibbs, whose seasoned squad shared the Big Rivers conference title with Wausau. "Our first game in tournament play is always our best."

"Find Out Quickly"

Rudy Ellis, coach of the Shawano Indians, feels the same way.

"We'd just as soon play a good team like Eau Claire in the first round," he said today. "After all, you've either got it or you haven't and you might just as well find out quickly."

The Indians have a big edge in tourney experience. They have ruled the "Big 16" roost all season long. Eau Claire was ranked twelfth in the final ratings.

In the 6-2 Marty Gharrity and the 5-9 John Cantwell, Ellis has two of the finest players in the state. Both played major roles in Shawano's success here last year. And both made The Associated Press' all-tournament first team, along with Loren Wolf who has graduated.

Loss to Menasha

Gharrity leads the Indians in scoring with 625 points, followed by Cantwell with 469. Rounding out Shawano's first five are Norm Ostapinski, a 6-5½ center who transferred from Milwaukee; 6-3 Paul Timm and 5-9½ Harley Lyons. Ostapinski has accounted for 307 points; Timm for 210; and Lyons for 95. All but Lyons are seniors. He is a junior.

"We have the horses to do it again," Ellis said. "We can adapt quickly to difficult situations. We can think on our feet. Our tournament experience should help us."

The Indians, with a 24-1 record, lost their only game to Menasha. They have good height, rebounding ability and scoring punch.

Gibbs, in his second year as head coach at Eau Claire, thinks his all-senior starting five may surprise a few people.

"We have good balance," he said. "We're aggressive under the boards and—perhaps most important of all—we've proved time and time again that we can come back in the close games."

The 31-year-old Gibbs isn't concerned about tournament jitters.

"All teams are a little nervous," he said. "As a matter of fact, I like to have the boys on edge a bit. It helps them."

The Old Abes, biggest school in the tournament with an enrollment of 1,573, will count on Tom Partlow and "Hud" Gelcine, both 6-2; 5-9 Dick Tornowski; 5-8 Bruce Neuman; and 6-0 Mike Tietge, an all-state end in football.

Partlow is Eau Claire's top scorer, with 423 points in 23 games.

Sellout Expected at State Prep Tourney

Madison —(AP)—Oscar Damman, ticket director for the state high school basketball tournament here this weekend, said Monday he expected the event would be a sellout.

Friday and Saturday night game tickets have been sold out and only 1,300 remained for Thursday night, he said.

Capacity of the University of Wisconsin fieldhouse, scene of the tournament, is 13,800.

St. Paul — Del Flanagan, 155, St. Paul, stopped Clarence Cook, 152, Bastrop, La., 9.

Basilio, 'Sugar' Arrive on Fight Scene

Record Indoor Gate Appears A Certainty

Chicago —(AP)—"Sugar" Ray Robinson, who dons and doffs the middleweight crown about as often as the next guy buys a hat, comes to Chicago today for next week's fight against champion Carmen Basilio.

Robinson will be seeking to win the middleweight championship a fifth time in what is expected to be a record indoor gate.

The International Boxing club says there'll be a near capacity of 23,000 in Chicago stadium with a gate of more than $500,000 for the rematch of a 15-rounder at New York last fall when Basilio lifted Robinson's title.

The indoor record of $422,918 by Tony Zale and Rocky Graziano in Chicago stadium doesn't appear to have a chance to stand. Over $200,000 already is in the till. There'll be some $300,000 from theater television plus $30,000 from radio.

Chicago will be blacked out for theater television but will be included in the national radio broadcast.

Basilio arrived in town Monday and with Robinson coming in today, the promoters will have the entire week to ballyhoo the fight with both contestants on hand.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the IBC, says all $5, $10 and $20 tickets still remain along with most of the $30 and $40 ones.

The higher priced duets are expected to move quickly once it appears that Robinson, who has a notorious record of postponing fights, is all set to go.

Basilio, who won a close decision from Robinson last September, said on his arrival: "I know what to expect from Robinson and he knows what to expect from me."

The 30-year-old champion said he weighs about 153½ about the same as the last time, and will stick mainly to road work in final preparations. His boxing will consist of three rounds a day.

with a 214 game, then slid to 172. She opened her final game with two "blows" but came back strong to finish with a 235 singleton.

The key to the big series, according to Mrs. Pekarske, is that she felt "real relaxed."

Mrs. Pekarske's best previous series was a 556 earlier this season. She bowls with her husband, Don, in the Twelve Corners Dairy Couples circuit. He has never been able to achieve as high a count as Lorna did last night. In the Flower loop, she is a member of the Firecracker team which has already clinched the circuit title.

Dale Long Back In Cub Lineup

Tucson, Ariz. —(AP)—First baseman Dale Long was expected to return to the Chicago Cub lineup today after being out of action for a week with a strained muscle.

Meanwhile pitcher Johnny Briggs has reported a recurrence of arm trouble which kept him sidelined most of 1956.

Eggert Reports from Waycross, Finds Camp Filled With Activity

Darold Eggert, a graduate of the Post-Crescent Braves Silver Sluggers school, gives his impressions of the minor league training camp at Waycross, Ga., in a letter which is reproduced below.

Eggert, of Menasha, was one of 10 players in the state who were awarded, two to three, weeks of intensive spring training instruction on the basis of their performances in a Milwaukee stadium all-star game.

Summoned Early

As a catcher, Eggert was summoned to the camp earlier than most of the contingent. Following is his description of the camp and a chronology of a typical training day:

"The camp is around five miles out of Waycross in a northerly direction. The places where we fellows are bedded down are barracks. Maybe I should have said that there are six barracks distributed around the camp in which the fellows sleep. These are called Teepees. There are three more of these placed in the center of the camp. One is the administration building, one is a cafeteria, and one is a sleeping quarters for the coaches and scouts.

"The ball fields are directly across the road from the camp. There are five diamonds, a batting cage with four automatic pitching machines and a sprint track 75 yards long.

"I will now give you an idea of what I, as a catcher, do in a day. I will take today, for it is to 12:45. I have made friends fresh in my memory. I got up at 7:45 this morning and shaved and washed. Then I went to the breakfast (cafeteria style, as the rest of the meals are).

"After breakfast, I went back to my barracks and got my equipment. I was dressed and on the field at 9:00. I was to go to the batting cages with the rest of the catchers. Each day a list is made out, telling us where to report and at what time. I was in the cages until 11:00. At 11, the catchers got a few important hints from Harry Minton, coach of the Wells-ville, N. Y., team. At 11:45 we went to dinner.

"Everyone was on the field at 1:00. I was to report to diamond 1 on the Green squad, coached by Travis Jackson. We took batting practice for about an hour. Then, we played pepper for 15 minutes and then to the batting cages for 30 minutes. After that, we went to the sprint track and ran 15 wind sprints. After the sprints we were allowed to shower.

"Supper was served from 5 to 6.

"Dinner is served from 11:45 to 12:45. I have made friends with a couple fellows. Bob Wit-at 7:45 this morning and shaved and washed. Then I went to the next bunk. He and I are the only two in the barracks at this time. Bob is a catcher also. Bob Biederman is from St. Angelo, Texas. He is a catcher and played with Austin last year.

"Jim H. (I'm not sure of his last name), from St. Louis, is a catcher that I met on the train on the way down here. He has been playing pro ball for two years and through my talks with him, I have learned a great deal about what a pro ball player's life is really like."

Supreme Court Will Review IBC Ruling

Action Means Many Months' Reprieve for Norris

Washington —(AP)—Promoter James D. Norris is getting another chance to fight a court order that spells death for his International Boxing club as one of history's most fabulous ring empires.

The supreme court agreed Monday to review a lower court ruling that the IBC be dissolved on grounds it monopolized championship bouts in violation of the antitrust laws.

For Norris, IBC's president, the high court's action means at the least a reprieve of many months.

Because of a crowded calendar, the court is not expected to hear the IBC appeal until next fall at the earliest. More months could pass before a ruling is announced. Meantime, the lower court's ruling, issued last year in New York, has been suspended.

Ryan Gave Ruling

The ruling by U. S. Dist. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan applied specifically to the International Boxing clubs of New York and Illinois; Norris and Arthur W. Wirtz, principal IBC officers; and Madison Square garden.

Ryan ruled that the defendants created an illegal monopoly in the promotion of title fights from 1949 to 1953. To break up the monopoly he ordered that:

1. The clubs be dissolved.
2. Norris and Wirtz, an IBC director, sell their stock in the Garden corporation and resign as Garden officers.
3. Norris and Wirtz be barred from contracting for the exclusive services of individual fighters.
4. The Garden be limited to two championship bouts annually for the next five years. This also affected Chicago stadium, which Norris and Wirtz own.

Yanks Score 15-8 Win Over Braves

Jay Pounded Hard; Covington Hits Grand Slam Homer

Bradenton, Fla. —(AP)—The New York Yankees smashed 17 hits off Milwaukee pitching Monday, taking a 15-8 exhibition victory over the world champions of baseball.

The loss was Milwaukee's fifth in nine spring practice games. The Yanks have four straight victories, including two in a row over the Braves, and hold a 5-5 spring record.

Lead Vanishes

Wes Covington clouted a grand slam home run in the Braves' first-inning attack on Bob Turley.

Tom Sturdivant gave up two more Milwaukee runs in the second, but he tightened up, pitched through the sixth inning and took the victory.

Milwaukee's 7-2 lead vanished in the third inning when the Yanks pounded losing pitcher Joey Jay for six runs.

Juan Pizarro replaced Jay for the fourth inning and yielded single runs in the fourth and fifth innings and gave up three more in the sixth inning.

Jerry Nelson lost two more Yankee runs in the eighth. Don McMahon pitched the ninth inning without any trouble.

Homers by Covington and Joe Adcock and a triple by Henry Aaron sent home all of Milwaukee's seven early runs. The Braves scored in the ninth when Ray Shearer doubled and Frank Torre singled.

The Yankees took advantage of nine walks and Milwaukee's three called errors, but they had plenty of hitting to exhibit.

Hank Bauer drove in four runs with a homer and a triple. Norm Siebern hit four singles. Andy Carey also homered.

Cubs' Jack Littrell Wins Second Game

Infielder Making Successful Switch To Pitching Job

By The Associated Press

Jack Littrell of the Chicago Cubs, who has played with 11 different baseball clubs in the minor and major leagues in 10 years, may be the latest to make the big switch from an infielder to a pitcher.

Littrell, no man to be feared by opposing pitchers as his .190 batting average in 61 games with the Cubs last year will attest, won his second Cactus league decision Monday when Chicago defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 5-3, at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Allows 2 Hits

The 29-year-old native of Louisville, Ky., pitched two innings and allowed two hits and one run. The Cubs won it on a 3-run homer by Walt Moryn with two out in the seventh inning. The game was limited to seven innings by agreement, since the Cleveland Indians defeated the San Francisco Giants, 9-6, in the opener of the benefit doubleheader.

Cleveland slammed rookie Ernie Broglio for five hits and six runs in the second inning — one a 2-run triple by Earl Averill.

Frank Thomas hit two homers for Pittsburgh at Fort Myers, Fla., but the Chicago White Sox defeated the Pirates, 7-4. Chicago got four runs in the fourth inning with the help of two wild pitches, two walks and an error.

Redlegs Win

Richie Ashburn hit a double and three singles as the Philadelphia Phillies pounded Herman Wehmeier, Bob Miller and Bill Smith for 15 hits in a 6-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Cincinnati Redlegs defeated the Washington Senators, 9-6, at Orlando, Fla.

Cadore, Who Pitched History's Longest Tilt, Dies of Cancer at 66

Spokane — Leon Cadore, who pitched the longest game in major league baseball history, is dead.

Cadore overcame the 66-year-old Leon at Spokane's Veterans Administration hospital Sunday, only six weeks after he'd entered the institution to undergo surgery for his ailment.

The former Brooklyn Dodger was ever willing to tell about that longest game.

It was May 1, 1920, in Boston.

As the teams were getting ready to start the 27th inning — the equivalent of three full games — the umpire called things off because of darkness, after three hours and 50 minutes.

It went into the record books as a 1-1 tie.

London — Terry Downes, 1601, England, stopped Ben Salah Farhat, 161, Tunis, 5.

Frank Robinson drove in six runs on a pair of homers, a single and sacrifice fly. Steve Bilko also homered for Cincinnati.

The Los Angeles Dodgers had to go 10 innings to squeeze out a 3-2 victory over Spokane, their Pacific Coast league farm club, at Vero Beach, Fla.

Sievers Calls Williams 'Best Hitter in Game'

Roy Says He'd Like to Keep at Least One of the Titles He Won Last Year

Orlando, Fla. — "Mickey" Mantle is the only hitter with the power to break Babe Ruth's home run record.

"Ted Williams is the best hitter in the game."

"Stan Musial is the best all-around ball player."

The man who was so generous in his praise of others was Roy Sievers, the Washington slugger who beat both Williams and Mantle last year in the home run and runs-batted-in races.

Work is Cut Out

"I don't have any ideas about any triple crown (batting, homers and RBI)," he said. "I'd just like to keep at least one of the titles I won last year. With hitters like Williams and Mantle around I have my work cut out for me."

"Somebody said I expected to hit 40 homers this year but I'd settle for anything over 30. I want to drive in over 100 runs and bat .300 again."

Acheson Sees Wisdom in Ike's Disability Plan

Sees No Trouble Evolving From Temporary Reign of Vice President

BY DEAN ACHESON
Former Secretary of State

Washington — President Eisenhower's unfortunate and recurrent illnesses have led to a good deal of discussion as to what should be done in case of the president's inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office.

The whole matter is, of course, a political one of some delicacy in which the constitution has laid down the main principles, leaving wide latitude in determining procedure. It would seem to call for a simple and common-sense solution, infringing as little as possible upon the prerogatives and powers of the president.

But two deeply ingrained American traits impede this sort of a solution. One, De Tocqueville noted a century ago, is the "statesman's series" of columns being written by distinguished persons in government, business, national affairs and the military for Thomas L. Stokes. He is seriously ill.)

and a quarter ago. "Scarcely any political question arises in the United States that is not resolved, sooner or later, into a judicial question," he wrote. "The other trait is our national addiction to complicating things. In this case we want to imagine every possible contingency and, by providing for all of them, produce a document as involved as a corporate mortgage or a marine insurance contract. Discussion ought to begin, I suggest, by recalling that we are concerned with the occupant of the highest office in the land, the chief magistrate, in whom is vested the greatest powers legally placed in any chief of state and head of government in the world. This would give rise to a decent reticence on the part of those who would interfere.

Judges Refuse
In the reign of Richard II the house of lords vainly attempted to get from the judges an opinion on the Duke of York's claim to the throne. But the judges refused, saying this "mater was so high, and touched the king's high estate and realgie, which is above the lawe and passed their lernyng; wherefore they durst not enter into any communication thereof, for it perternyed to the lordes of the kyng's blode . . . to meddle in such matters."

"It is also well to recall that the only 'lorde of the kyng's blode' in this country is the vice-president who, with the president, is the only official elected by the whole country, and elected for the very purpose of discharging 'the powers and duties of said office' in case of the president's inability to do so.

It would seem very proper then that he and the president alone are competent, as a matter of political wisdom and propriety, "to meddle in such matters."

The way in which the president has recently proposed to deal with his possible inability to discharge his duties seems to me sensible and politically desirable.

He proposes, if he should be able to do so, to notify the vice-president of his temporary inability if it should be such—inability, and ask him to discharge the presidential duties. If he should be too ill to do this, the vice-president, taking such advice as he thought proper, would make the decision.

When the president was again able to perform his duties, he would so notify the vice-president and resume their discharge. This leaves the president in control whenever he is capable of exercising control.

The proposal seems to me politically and legally sound. On the legal side it would be highly desirable for the congress by law to sanction this procedure; for there should be formal and public legal acts, such as publication in the federal register, for fixing the beginning and ending of this temporary transfer of power.

Legal Argument
But, it has been said, once the vice-president performs the presidential duties, he cannot or should not step down. The legal argument seems to be the vice-president must take the presidential oath, and once being sworn in, he cannot be sworn out. To this President Eisenhower replies: "Why should he . . . He has taken an oath as vice-president. . . . The constitution says the vice-president shall do certain things. It doesn't say he takes a new oath. It says under certain situations, the vice-president does certain things, and when that situation is ended he doesn't do them any more; and that is the way I read the constitution."

That is the way I see it, too. If eminent men had not differed, I would find it hard to believe there was an alternative to this simple and sensible view. It is common practice with us, and in other countries, for the duties of even the highest offices to be performed temporarily by others. The president of the senate yields his chair and gavel to the president pro tempore or any other senator (Mr. Nixon has done this for about half of his term of office) and gets them back again without legal difficulties about oaths or practical problems of administration.

I have often wondered why we make this rather simple matter so difficult and, in doing so, distract our attention from the really hard problems.
